NEW ATTACK THREATENS SHANGHAI DEFENSE

Chekiang Forces Battling To Prevent Additional Gains by Assailants

SHANGHAI, Oct. 7—10 p. m.—The Chekiang defenses of Shanghai were seriously menaced tonight, following a successful encircling movement at Sungkiang.

The Kaingsu forces, by the movement, succeeded in reaching the gates of Sung Kiang on the Shanghai side, and in cutting off several Chekiang troop trains that were rushing reinforcements to the front.

The Kiangsu forces late tonight were fighting bitterly to obtain a hold on the Hangchow railway, by opening a path to Shanghai.

The Chekiang forces were resisting fiercely and the issue was still in doubt late tonight. The country between Sungkiang and Shanghai is mostly open field and narrow creeks and most difficult to defend.

A secondary defense line was being hastily organized by the Chekiang forces through Minghong, which is twenty-five miles from Shanghai and connected with the city by a motor road.

A report has been received here from Soo Chow that Chin Sieh Yuan, Kiangsu military chieftain, is seriously ill of influenza, with a dangerously high fever.

ENGLAND'S LABOR RULE HELD FATAL

Dr. H. R. Harrower Describes Government Condition In Brief Address

Dr. H. R. Harrower, vice president of the Glendale Exchange club, was welcomed back from his recent trip to Europe, when the club met today noon at the Masonic temple. Dr. Harrower presided during the absence of President R. E. Johnston, who attended the national convention in Nashville and is expected home some time this week.

In speaking on conditions in Great Britain, Dr. Harrower said the labor government experiment in England has been a fatal experiment, and Great Britain today is on the verge of accepting a soviet form of government. The same results will occur in the United States, he said, if La Follette is elected president.

Dr. Harrower charged that La Follette is at the head of an element in this country similar to the element which brought about labor government in England and classified it as a veiled form of bolshevism.

Predicts New War

It is almost impossible to get a square deal in transacting business in Germany or with German firms, Dr. Harrower said. He predicted that within a short time Germany would join with Russia, force Poland into an agreement with them and the three nations start another World war.

George Whittaker, in a brief address, urged the members of the club to vote in the general election November 4 and to urge other residents of Glendale to go to the polls.. E. J. Albright sang four songs, with Mike Kaufman at the piano. William Baker, who recently acquired the Crystal Ice Co., with David W. Johnston of Santa Maria, provided cigars for the members. The attendance prize, donated by R. E. Brown, was won by Judge H. W. Chase.

M'ADOO IMPROVING

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7.—William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, is rapidly convalescing at the Johns-Hopkins hospital after an operation to remove the gravel from his bladder. Physicians say he should be able to leave his bed within two weeks.

Big Broadcasting Station Proposed Close to New York

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Radio Corporation of America, one of the pioneers in radio development, is ready to begin the immediate erection of a great superior-power broadcasting station near New York City, David Sarnoff, its vice-president and general manager, announced to the National Radio conference today.

If this station proves a success, the radio corporation will construct a gigantic system of super power stations throughout the United States that direct braodcasting may be extended to every corner of the country, according to Sarnoff.

LEN C. DAVIS CHOSEN AS DIRECTOR

Head of Grand View Park Joins Board of Gibraltar Finance Corporation

Len C. Davis, president of the Grand View Memorial Park and Mausoleum, was elected to the board of directors of the Gibraltar Finance corporation, with offices in several Southern California cities.

Mr. Davis is one of the Southland's foremost progressive young business men. Starting the Grand View Memorial park, four years ago, he is today constructing the largest mausoleum in the world, costing over $1,000,000.

Mr. Davis, in commenting on his reasons for entering this corporation, said:

"I feel that a mortgage and finance corporation is one of the most useful institutions any city can possess, and in connecting myself with the Gibraltar Finance corporation I feel that I am giving the best possible service to this city. I have always been interested in Glendale and in her advancement, and have felt that any effort I can put forward to advance her interests would be more than worthwhile.

Profitable Business

"I feel that the mortgage and finance business is the most safe and profitable line in existence today. Every dollar placed in this business is 100 per cent secure, as money is loaned only on real estate, and that at an extremely conservative valuation.

"I have already backed up my judgment along this line by purchasing a good-sized block of stock in this corporation, and I expect to purchase more and more as time goes on and as rapidly as I can get funds together.

"It will be seen, therefore, that my expressions are not 'hollow,' as one might say. I believe in this institution, its operations, its policy and the men who are at the head of it, and I believe in it strongly enough to put my cold cash behind it."

In speaking of the entrance of Mr. Davis in the corporation, Mar-

PRINCE TO VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 7.—According to present plans, subject to change at the will of the Prince of Wales, he will spend tonight in Vancouver, leaving Victoria early this afternoon. He will reach Vancouver about 7 o'clock tonight and leave for eastern Canada and United States points on Wednesday.

ANSWER TO GERMANY

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Great Britain today replied to Germany's League of Nations note, intimating that no opposition would be put in the way of Germany's acquisition of a seat in the council. The note pointed out, however, that England could not bind the league to any particular course of action.

JAIL BALLPLAYER

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 7.—Joe Gedeon, in 1919 star second baseman of the St. Louis Browns of the American league, was in jail here today, awaiting trial on a charge of violating the Wright act. He was arrested in a raid on a roadhouse on the outskirts of the city which he is said to have conducted.

KEEP RADIO MONOPOLY OUT, PLEA AT MEET

Government Making Inquiry Into Charges Companies Seek Control of Air

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The cry against monopoly, a plea that the air be kept free for the millions of Americans who nightly derive entertainment from the invisible waves that dart through the ether—was raised here today at the opening session of the third radio conference of the United States.

Led by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, who is to radio what Kenesaw Mountain Landis is to baseball, nearly 1,000 radio leaders of the country protested against control of aerial communication by any central group.

Against U. S. Control

Addressing the conference, Hoover said:

"It would be unfortunate indeed if such an important function as the distribution of information by radio should ever fall into the hands of the government.

"It would be still more unfortunate if its control should come under the arbitrary power of any person or group of persons."

The United States government has already launched an investigation of alleged monopolies in the manufacture of radio equipment, the federal trade commission having submitted a report on the subject to Attorney-General Stone. The department of justice, it was learned, is making a probe of the situation. No immediate action is anticipated.

Many Make Demand

Representing radio devotees of America, Secretary Hoover has already made a plea to Congress for adequate legislation to protect the development of what he termed an institution that "has passed from the field of adventure to that of public utility."

Hundreds of letters have poured into the department of commerce from users of everything from the little crystal sets to high-priced twelve-tube outfits demanding that the government exercise its power against illegal use of the air.

AGED MAN FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL

Body of Robert Mertens, 80, Is Discovered; Wife and Son Living Here

Robert Mertens, 80 years old, was found dead in the Tropico hotel at 1513½ South San Fernando road shortly before noon today. The case was at once reported to the Glendale police department, and Captain William A. Loving of the detective squad investigated. He found the man registered from Santa Susanna, although a letter in his pocket indicated he had a son, Paul Mertens, living at 3006 West Los Feliz road and a wife living at 809½ East Palmer avenue.

The son and wife were both notified and the body taken to the Kiefer & Eyerick undertaking parlors. In the pockets were found $4 in cash, and watch and some other articles, the police state. The body was found at the foot of the bed. Captain Loving states that, in his opinion, death came from natural causes.

Burglars Enter Office Of National Paving Co.

The office of the National Paving Co., at the corner of Laurel and Flower streets, was burglarized some time last night and a number of tools stolen, it was reported to police headquarters this morning. The grocery store of Johnson Brothers & Craddock at 1941 North San Fernando road was broken into last night and $15 in cash stolen. Detectives from the Glendale police department are investigating both jobs.

PLOT TO KILL JAPANESE LEADERS

'Red Blood' Society Seeking Lives of Officials for Policy Toward China

TOKIO, Oct. 7.—A plan to assassinate Baron Shidehara, Foreign Minister Ukichad, war minister and other officials were reported today to have revealed through the police investigation of an attack by three armed members of the Taiso "red blood" society on Shidehara's secretary. The three members entered the foreign secretary's office and belabored the secretary. They said they were protesting against Shidehara's policy of neutrality in China.

The Taikosha society, which dispersed the Imperial hotel dancers last summer, today sent a warning to Baron Okura, Japan's Rockefeller, against his reported plans of spending a million and a half yen ($750,000) in a colossal celebration of his 80th birthday October 20. The society threatened to interfere if he went forward with his plans.

Discover Coal Field In Yorkshire, England

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Discovery of great new coal fields in southeast Yorkshire is announced. Sinkings at Moor End, Thorne, seven miles from Goole, have resulted in the striking of a rich seam, which, it is estimated, will yield about 23,000,000,000 tons of coal, or enough to meet England's need for the next 400 years.

RUSH MORE TROOPS

HAVANA, Oct. 7.—Another train loaded with soldiers was rushed to Camaguey by President Zayas today to assist those already there in stemming the threatened revolution which flared Sunday, resulting in the death of eleven men and the wounding of fifty-eight others.

AIR CRUISER DEPARTS ON 7000-MILE JOURNEY

Dirigible Points Nose to Pacific Coast; Two Weeks' Trip Time Estimate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Shenandoah passed over Washington at 2:05 p. m.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 7.—The big cruiser Shenandoah cast off from its mooring mast at the naval air station here at 10 o'clock today and started the longest air voyage it has ever made.

The big silver air cruiser glinted in a morning sun as it swung its huge bulk into the course of the first part of the voyage. The warm weather served to expand the slightly inadequate supply of helium gas with which the gas envelope was inflated.

Gangplanks were hauled in and water ballast spilled preliminary to letting the air cruiser loose from the mooring mast.

More Than 7000 Miles

Commander Zachary Lansdown will take the huge dirigible more than 7,000 miles in a two-weeks' trip via the southern route to the Pacific coast, where visits will be made to San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle. Lakehurst to Fort Worth, Texas, was the first leg of the journey.

Rear-Admiral W. A. Moffett, commander of the third naval district, was an eleventh-hour addition to the number aboard the dirigible, which carried a crew of forty men.

Deputy Sheriff's Wife, Armed, Arrests Burglar

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—Armed with her husband's revolver, Mrs. Lillie Patton, wife of Deputy Sheriff Al C. Patton, today, single-handed, captured a burglar who was prowling through the house of her brother-in-law, Deputy Sheriff C. A. Patton of Los Angeles. Mrs. Patton wears no badge of office.

When the accused robber escaped momentariiy after his capture, Mrs. Patton gave chase and again menaced the man who gave his name as Robert Stelce, later turning him over to the police.

Woman Meets Death When Car Hits Her

LONG BEACH, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Charlotte Bowers, 51, was instantly killed here today when a Pacific Electric interurban train bound for Los Angeles, loomed out of the fog and struck her, it was reported to police headquarters. She was rushed to the Seaside hospital, but surgeons said Mrs. Bowers had met with instant death as a result of a fractured skull.

LATEST NEWS

U. S. SUGAR INDUSTRY TO BE PROTECTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The American beet sugar industry will be protected against any combination which may be formed in Cuba or elsewhere to control the price of sugar, it was declared officially at the White House today. President Coolidge is now investigating the sugar situation with a view to the possible readjustment of the tariff on sugar.

BANDITS GET $20,891 IN TWO HOLDUPS

DETROIT, Oct. 7.—Two bandit gangs perpetrated two holdups in Detroit today, escaping with a total of $20,891, As A. M. Heyboer, secretary of a creamery company, and O. C. Coll, the office manager, stepped from the company's office to transfer $17,000 receipts to a bank, two armed men snatched two satchels in which the money was carried, and escaped in an automobile. Five armed bandits held up James Lyon, fleeing with $3,891 he had just drawn from the bank.

COOLIDGE APPOINTEE TO HOLD OFFICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Walter L. Cohen, negro, whom President Coolidge appointed collector of customs at New Orleans, and whose right to hold office is being challenged because of his "African descent," will continue in office until his tenure is conclusively shown to be illegal, it was declared officially at the White House today.

COMMUNISM DENOUNCED BY LABOR PREMIER

Ramsay Macdonald Reveals Break With Liberals In Speech at Conference

LONDON, Oct. 7.—England's labor premier, Ramsay Macdonald, denounced communism in a speech before the annual Labor party conference today. He revealed that there had been a clean break between the Labor and Liberal parties as a result of the Liberal motion in the House of Commons to investigate the quashing of a criminal case against the editor of a communist newspaper.

A general election before Christmas is now regarded as a certainty. It is believed that the laborite cabinet will resign after the Tory motion of censure is brought up in commons tomorrow. Macdonald probably will ask the king to dissolve commons and summon a national election.

Praises Dawes Plan

There was an enthusiastic demonstration when the premier appeared on the floor of the Labor party conference. He outlined the successes of the laborite government, adding:

"We did not hope to create a new world out of our imagination. But we do believe that the old world is beginning to show a new response to a newly created spirit. I think we have succeeded in that."

Macdonald declared that British unemployment has been lessened and that the budget is now more favorable to the working man. The next budget, he said, would be even more favorable. He praised the Dawes preparations plan, saying it gave the necessary machinery "to bring us back to wisdom." The premier was without illusion and warned that there are still troubled waters ahead.

Attacks Liberals

After attacking communism, he turned to the liberals, declaring that former Premier H. H. Asquith's speech indicated that the "liberals expected the laborites to eat out of their hands."

The Liberals' inquiry motion, the motion charged, was conceived in a spirit of medievial crookedness and torture.

The conference unanimously adopted a resolution endorsing the premier's decision to oppose both the Tory motion of censure and the Liberal motion for an inquiry into the withdrawal of prosecution against the communist editor.

Realtors at Luncheon Discuss Parade Plans

A procession of six cars from the Glendale Realty board will pilot the big caravan of realtors from the north through Glendale to Pasadena at 6:15 o'clock tonight, completing their two-day trip to the twentieth annual convention of the California Real Estate association, it was decided at this noon's luncheon meeting of the Glendale Realty board, held at the Alley Inn, 110½ South Brand boulevard, W. L. Twining, vice-president, presiding, in the absence of President Peter Hanson.

The route of the caravan of 250 cars through this city will be from Magnolia avenue and San Fernando boulevard, Burbank, to Kenneth road, Glendale, via Grand View avenue, then down Central avenue to Doran street and thence to Brand boulevard and Broadway, where the procession will turn east and proceed to Pasadena, via Colorado boulevard.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock the Glendale realtors will gather at the Hotel Maryland, Pasadena, for the official opening of the convention, it was decided. Caps and whistles were distributed this noon and all arrangements for the convention completed.

GOSLIN HITS OUT HOME RUN WITH TWO ON BASES

Mogridge Hurls Good Game, Holding New York Down To Three Bingles

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—Behind the inspired pitching of George Mogridge, the Washington Senators arose upon their rear legs this afternoon and everlastingly beat the New York Giants 7 to 4.

In consequence, the Senators carried the series to a tie again at two-all, putting it squarely up to Johnson and Nehf to pitch their club into the lead tomorrow.

Washington had heroes in plenty today, Mogridge was thought to be badly spavined, in the pre-game calculations, yet he held the Giants to three hits in the seven and a third innings he pitched.

George weakened in the eighth and was removed in favor of Marberry, but he wore the laurels just the same.

So did "Goose" Goslin, who added to the gaiety of the occasion by socking four hits for a perfect average. One of them was his second home run of the series. It came at the expense of Barnes, with McNeely and Harris languishing on the bases, in the third inning, the ball falling in the lower tier of the right field stands.

Scores Six Runs

In all, Goslin drove in four runs and scored two more purely as a personal and individual gesture.

Stanley Harris, the boy manager, also lined up with the heroes. He made remarkable stops in retiring Frisch and Gowdy when the Giants threatened in the seventh. His relay of Rice's throw, cutting down Meusel at the plate in the eighth, was also a bread winner.

So much for the heroes. The "goats" were Barnes and Dean, who were socked indiscriminately by the Senators.

Capacity Crowd

Another capacity crowd of 48,000 cheered the Senators to a hoarse echo. In fact, a casual loiterer outside the park might have been pardoned if he had imagined that the Giants had won.

Outside of Goslin's homer in the third, the remaining Washington runs were produced by singles by McNeely, Harris and Goslin in the fifth and by Goslin, Judge and Bluege in the eighth. These latter gave the Senators a long lead which they attempted to dissipate. Mogridge walked Young and Meusel in the eighth and gave way to Marberry. Wilson doubled to right, scoring young but Meusel was cut down at the plate, Rice to Harris to Ruel, averting impending disaster.

Kelly Strikes Out

Gowdy singled down the right field line to open the ninth and sped to third on Rice's care-free return. He scored on Lindstrom's hit after Bentley had fanned.

Frisch then walked but was forced at second on Young's tap to Judge and brother Kelly then obliged by striking right out.

Dolan Sees Landis

Cozy Dolan, former coach of the New York Giants, today voluntarily called upon Judge K. M. Landis, "baseball dictator," at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel and flatly denied that he had anything to do with the offer of $500 to Heinie Sand of the Philadelphia Nationals, to "throw the last game between Philadelphia and New York."

Dolan had previously pleaded inability to remember when questioned by Judge Landis about the bribe offer to Sand. In saying to Landis today that he had nothing to do with the affair, he exclaimed that his previous declaration about loss of memory was merely his way of denying culpability.

Judge Landis refused to comment upon Dolan's new story.

RESPECT FOR LAW URGED IN TALK

Good Citizenship Should Be Object of Schools, Says W. C. T. U. Speaker

In discussing "Scientific Temperance Instruction in Public Schools" before the Glendale W. C. T. U., last Friday, Mrs. Hattie Doughty, county president, gave some well worthwhile thoughts, that the local union is passing on to readers of The Glendale Evening News. Mrs. Doughty said in part:

"The object of public school training should be good citizenship. If they fail to produce good citizens, they fail to do the thing for which they were founded, and lay a useless burden upon taxpayers. Great responsibility rests upon the teachers.

Adopt Resolution

"The National Education association, meeting in Washington, July 3, 1924, adopted a resolution calling upon teachers everywhere to 'endeavor to inspire respect for law and to advocate strict enforcement thereof,' and special reference was made in this connection to 'natonal and state laws forbidding the liquor traffic,' and 'the laws in many states forbidding the sale of cigarettes to children.'

"Law observance will come most easily when the reasons for such laws are understood and interpreted in the light of high ideals for personal and national life. The teachers of the United States still have a great responsibility and opportunity in helping youth of the oncoming generation understand why abstinence from alcohol and other narcotics is necessary to abounding health, vigorous achievement, and the pursuit of high ideals.

"It has been said 'it will not cost the state one-tenth as much to teach the boys morals in childhood as it does to build prisons for them when they reach manhood.' Therefore scientific temperance instruction is one of the most important departments in all the work of the W. C. T. U.

Much Interest Shown

"It would be impossible to estimate the extent of influence of the temperance essay contests in our public schools. Fathers and mothers who would never go to the trouble to look into the merits of prohibtion have been led to do so through interest in the efforts of their offspring to win the prize in a contest. Other adult members of the family are made to think seriously on the subject, and when the public presentation of the essay occurs a large and eager audience of the friends and families of the prospective prize winners is certain to be in attendance to listen to the arguments.

"One of the very definite agencies for creating sentiment for observance of the eighteenth amendment in your community is the prize essay contest. It is through the boys and girls of today we hope to see a sound and everlasting prohibition worked out for this country."

Form Organization to Aid Gas Appliances

At an informal meeting of the exclusive gas appliance dealers of Glendale, held last night at the Alley Inn, what will probably form the nucleus of a permanent organization of these concerns was begun.

The purpose of the organization, it was pointed out, was to foster a spirit of friendly co-operation to the end that Glendale people should receive the best possible service on gas consuming appliances within their homes.

Attention was also called to the fact that natural gas is furnished Glendale residents and that the need for specialists in the matter of caring for and regulating gas appliances was therefore needed.

Firms represented at the meeting were Coker & Taylor, Good Housekeeping Shop and the Elwood Gas Appliance shop.

Executive Board of W.A.C. Meets Monday

Business affairs of the Women's Athletic club are to be considered next Monday afternoon, when the executive board will meet at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ruth Windrem at 646 North Jackson street. Plans will be made for the club meeting the middle of the month. There were sixty-five women present last night for the gymnasium class at the Harvard High school. The tennis group is to meet tomorrow morning on the Macpherson courts on Kenneth road. Those interested in tennis are asked to call Mrs. E. L. Osborne, jr., Glendale 2375-W.

City Represented at Stage Line Hearing

Hearing on the application of the Balish Auto Stage Co. for permission to operate a stage line between Pasadena and Santa Barbara was scheduled to come before the State Railroad commission this morning in Los Angeles. C. J. Hatz and M. B. Towman were named to represent the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at the hearing. Officials of the stage company asked for a local representation, believing that Glendale should work for the stage line since they claim it would benefit this city a great deal.

HIGH SCHOOL P.T.A. WILL EXPAND

Executive Board Increased To Forty Members and Chairmen Named

Keeping step with the growth of the Glendale Union High school has been the development of the Parent-Teacher association, the executive board of which has been increased to forty members by Mrs. W. R. Wichert, who is to serve as president during the coming year.

Mrs. Wichert has appointed representatives from both the Broadway and Harvard High schools on the various committees, as well as including the student body president and president of the girls' league.

Plan Meeting

Officers, chairmen and other members of the board met yesterday at the Harvard High school to complete plans for the first association meeting, Wednesday afternoon October 15, at the same place. This will be a get-acquainted gathering, with refreshments served at 2 o'clock and a program at 2:30 o'clock.

Officers serving with Mrs. Wichert are Mrs. S. L. Martinez, vice-president; Mrs. B. L. Cline, secretary; Mrs. R. C. Horner, treasurer; Mrs. Claude Chase, historian; Mrs. Percy Priaulx, auditor; Mrs. O. H. Spradling, parliamentarian.

List of Chairmen

Chairmen announced by Mrs. Wichert are: Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., Mrs. John Strother, child labor and legislation; Mrs. C. L. Church, Mrs. M. A. Heasley, child hygiene; Mrs. R. M. Ferguson, Mrs. G. W. Brunner, education; Mrs. E. W. Bicknell, Mrs. C. E. Rathbone, emblems and magazines; Mrs Pierson Hanning, Mrs. S. L. Martinez, finance; Mrs. J. W. Andree, Mrs. C. F. Tuomy, juvenile protection; Mrs. P. O. Lucas, Mrs. George E. Killinger, membership; Mrs. C. J. Tuttle, patriotism; Mrs. A. Reed, Mrs. Peter Diederich, philanthropy; Mrs. C. H. Whitney, Mrs. Myrtle B. Brown, program; Paul E. Webb, Mrs. C. H. Bird, Mrs. C. A. Haskins, publicity: Mrs. C. H. Ambrosch, Mrs. G. U. Moyse, scholarship; Mrs. A. D. Gaynor, Mrs. Harry C. Jones, thrift; Mrs. W. E. Pelley, playground; Mrs. E. B. Moore, Mrs. A. H. Brown, better films; Mrs J. W. Mair, Mrs. L. W. Sonntag, community life; Mrs. M. E. Plasterer, Mrs. W. E. Routt, courtesy; Mrs C. H. Thompson, Mrs. A. T. Wintersgill, visiting and hospitality. Leslie Lavelle, president of the student body, and Mary Jo Phillips, president of the girls' league, are also members of the executive board.

Owners of Apartment Houses Form Council

Formation of an organization of apartment house owners to be known as the Apartment House Owners' council of the Chamber of Commerce was perfected last night when thirty such owners met in the Glendale Chamber rooms and named officers of the organization. Frederick Reinecke, owner of the Frederick apartments, 121 South Kenwood, was elected president and Miss McGinn, secretary.

The new organization will work for a two-fold purpose, in the interest of the apartment owners and also for the city's benefit. An extensive advertising campaign will be carried out whereby vacant apartments will be advertised to the public and an attempt made to attract more people to this city. It was pointed out that at the present time there are a number of vacant apartments in Glendale.

Plans for the work to be pursued by the organization will be mapped out by an executive committee, to consist of the president and secretary and three other members of the organization, to be appointed by the president.

'Y' Fund Campaigners Meet for Final Drive

Y. M. C. A. campaigners for the $275,000 fund for a local building assembled at headquarters at 8 o'clock this morning for instructions for a day's work to secure the remaining $35,000 to complete the desired amount. This is to be the final day, according to Rex C. Kelley, Y. M. C. A. executive, who states that all workers will assemble for supper at 7 o'clock tonight at the Glendale Presbyterian church. The workers are out to reach their goal and Mr. Kelley is confident that tonight will spell success for the drive.

Division managers and team captains met yesterday at luncheon at the Harriett Mae tea room to make plans for today. They announce that any Glendalians desiring to make contributions by telephone late this afternoon or tonight can do so by calling Y. M. C. A. headquarters, Glendale 130.

Rally Day Attendance At Church Reaches 501

Rally Day was observed at the Central Christian church Sunday with 501 persons present, according to the actual count. A photograph of the entire Sunday school was taken, this completing the series of photographs of the Sunday school departments. The picture will be published in the Sunday school paper.

Convention Delegate Gives Report on Meet

Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, president of the American Legion auxiliary gave a talk on the national auxiliary convention held in St. Paul, Minn., September 15 to 19, at the meeting held in the home of Mrs. George Kaeding, North Central avenue and Salem street last night. Mrs. Gilliland reported that the greatest stress was given to child welfare and stated that there were 5,000 orphans of service men to be cared for. Plans for giving Christmas cheer to the soldiers at Sawtelle were made and it was decided to give a present to each soldier at Sawtelle, this being in charge of the county council of the auxiliary.

Seven hundred soldiers at Sawtelle served during the World War and each of these men will be provided with a stamped Christmas card to send to a relative or friend. Seven victrola records were donated for the soldiers to use on their phonograph. The auxiliary members have decided to assist the local Legion post in any plans they have for the celebration of Armistice day and the following committee was appointed: Mrs. Gilliland, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, Mrs. James McBryde and Mrs. George Kaeding The next meeting will be held October 20 in the home of Mrs. Charles Nagle at 321 West Maple street.

Mother and Daughter Hurt as Autos Crash

Mrs. George C. Harris and daughter, Frances, of 1268 South Mariposa street, wife and daughter of the proprietor of the Acacia avenue pharmacy, escaped serious injury and possible death at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when the Ford sedan in which they were riding west on Maple street was struck by a roadster said to have been drived by D. W. Fordham of Ducor, Cal., south on Sycamore canyon road.

According to a witness of the accident, Mrs. Harris was driving at a moderate rate of speed and had the right of way at the intersection. The witness states that Mr. Fordham was going at a high rate of speed and was unable to stop in time to avoid striking Mrs. Harris' car. His roadster hit the sedan on the front door, shattering the glass, damaging the running board, fenders, doors and tires, and throwing the car thirty feet over the curb, witnesses say. Mrs. Harris was bruised and shocked and her daughter received cuts on the head and ear from flying glass. The little girl's wounds bled profusely, and she was rushed to the hospital, where it was found her injuries were not fatal.

Mrs. Harris is very anxious to get in touch with the couple who took her and her daughter to the hospital, and asks that they communicate with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland Home From Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, of 415 East Stocker street, returned Friday from an enjoyable trip to St. Paul, Minn., where they attended the National American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary conventions held September 15 to 19. Mrs. Gilliland was a delegate from the Glendale Auxiliary and Mr. Gilliland represented the 9th district and also Glendale Post. En route to St. Paul, they stopped at Omaha, Neb., where they visited with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland went to Winnipeg from St. Paul then to Banff, a summer resort in the Canadian Rockies. Their itinerary included stops in Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Portland and San Francisco. Mrs. Gilliland stated this morning that, while they had a wonderful trip, yet she was glad to get home again and that they had found business conditions more prosperous here in the southland than in any state they visited. Business conditions in Canada are especially bad as crops have been poor for the past two years.

Councilman Asa Hall Holds Meeting Alone

The City Council met at 10 o'clock this morning with Councilman Asa Hall the only member present. The meeting was called to order by D. Davidson, deputy city clerk, in the absence of A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, who, with Mayor Spencer Robinson, Councilmen S. A. Davis, S. S. Gilhuly and other city officials, are attending the twenty-sixth annual convention of the League of California Municipalities, assembled at Monterey.

As there was no quorum, Councilman Hall adjourned the meeting until 10 o'clock Thursday morning, October 9, at which time it is expected Mayor Robinson and Councilman Gilhuly will be present with Councilman Hall and constitute the quorum of three members required under the city charter to hold a meeting of the City Council.

Audiences Like Play Presented This Week

"It's fine—it's great" is the verdict of the audiences as they leave the Club playhouse after witnessing the remarkable performance of "A Prince There Was" by the Dobinson Players.

This group of theatrical people is regarded as fine a stock company as has ever appeared on the Pacific coast, and are establishing themselves in the hearts of the community. Young, handsome and virile men and beautiful women form these players, and once seen they will draw you until it becomes a habit.

ADD COURSES TO NIGHT CLASSES

Current Events, American History Lectures to Be Given at School

Courses in current events and American history have been added to the list of subjects offered at the Glendale Union Evening High school, announced A. L. Ferguson, principal. The current events course is designed to acquaint the general public with post-war development, national and world problems, the 1924 presidential campaign in this country and other timely topics. The American history course will cover the administration of Woodrow Wilson, 1913-1921.

The current events course will be covered in a series of twelve lectures, Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 8 o'clock, Mr. Ferguson states; and the American history course, likewise to be covered in a series of twelve lectures, will come from 8 to 9 o'clock, Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Dressmaking Courses

These lectures will be given by James Mussatti, a Glendale Union High school instructor, said by Mr. Ferguson to be very capable of handling the subjects in an instructive and interesting manner. The first lecture of the series will be given Thursday night, October 9, at the Harvard High school, which is the headquarters of the night school work.

Courses in dressmaking and sewing are offered Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 2:30 o'clock and at 7 o'clock on the same nights, Mr. Ferguson states. Mrs. MacCaskill, who has charge of this work, was selected from among many candidates because of her wide experience. Mr. Ferguson states that a few places are still open for registration in this work.

DECIDE AGAINST ANNEXATION NOW

Sycamore Canyon Residents Favor Waiting Several Months on Question

The annexation of the Sycamore Canyon district to Glendale should be postponed until a later date, it was decided at a mass meeting held last night at the academy in Sycamore Canyon under the auspices of the Sycamore Canyon Improvement association. About seventy persons were present at the meeting, and with only a few exceptions, all were in favor of waiting until a later date, according to reports.

C. A. Byroad, president of the Sycamore Canyon Improvement association, presided at the meeting. Addresses were made by Thomas W. Watson, former city manager and head of the City Planning commission; Prof. Oaks and others.

Work by County

It was stated at the meeting that Bert Farrar was having considerable work done on his tract which came under the leading of county work, and which was being done by the county. To annex at the present time, it was pointed out, would mean the work would not be completed by the county since it would be in the city limits. In about two months, it was said, the work will be completed and it was suggested that the question of annexation be brought up at that time.

Officers of the Sycamore Canyon Improvement association, in addition to Mr. Byroad as president, are: M. E. Brown, vice-president; W. A. Brown, secretary; C. A. Griffin, treasurer, and H. L. Springstrat, M. Edwards and F. M. Riley, directors.

Children and Mothers Entertained at Party

Mrs. Nanno Woods was hostess yesterday to forty children and twenty mothers, entertaining them at a delightful party in her private ballroom in the garden of her home, 122 West Milford street. The children were pupils and friends of the baby and beginners' classes of the Woods School of Klever Kiddies. Several boys gave a jesters' dance; a small boy and girl presented a minuet; little Berlinda Ortez gave an old-fashioned costume dance. After games directed by Mrs. Woods, refreshments were served. Assisting were Mrs. Catherine Bernett and Miss Alberta Stoddard, teachers at the Broadway school. These parties are to be given each month by Mrs. Woods, at 3:30 o'clock the first Monday afternoon of each month.

Grady Returns From Journey to Oakland

Laurence H. Grady, assistant to Secretary Howard I. Wood in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, returned yesterday from Oakland, where he spent the week-end. Mr. Grady was accompanied by his wife and daughter, and they have taken apartments at 122 West Elk avenue for the present.

Most truffles are found under oak trees in France but they are also unearthed under beeches, hazel, birch and willow.

CONVENTION OPENS IN MONTEREY

Seven City Officials From Glendale Hear Talks On Municipalities

MONTEREY, Oct. 7.—The seven Glendale city officials attending the twenty-sixth annual convention of the League of California Municipalities assembled here, October 6 to 10, rose early this morning and were in the dining hall in a body at the first bell.

At 9 o'clock they gathered in the auditorium of the Hotel Asilomar with the 500 other delegates and enjoyed several outstanding addresses, among them one by Albert A. Rosenshine, member of the state assembly, on "Suggested Amendments to Our Election Laws."

Speaks on Camps

Charles B. Raitt, superintendent of Los Angeles playgrounds, spoke on "The Municipal Camps of Los Angeles."

Robert L. Shinn, Sacramento city attorney, also spoke, as did Frank B. Stringham, mayor of Berkeley, and Professor Samuel C. May, mayor of Palo Alto.

In the afternoon the delegates enjoyed a motor trip of inspection embracing the various communities of the Monterey peninsula.

One of the features of tomorrow's program is an address by Councilman S. A. Davis of Glendale, on "Joint Outfall Sewers by Two or More Cities."

This is the address Ray L. Morrow, Glendale city attorney, had prepared and was to have given, but was obliged to turn over to Councilman Davis when pressure of work on placing the Civic Center proposition before the voters on November 4 prevented him from attending the convention.

Glendale's seven official delegates to the convention are: Mayor Spencer Robinson, Virgil B. Stone, city manager; A. J. Van Wie, city clerk; Peter L. Diederich, superintendent of plant and production; H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent, and Councilmen S. A. Davis and S. S. Gilhuly.

Loses Golf Match; Is Host at Dinner Party

Families of Max Green of 528 North Maryland avenue, and his brother, Dan Green of Los Angeles, were neutral bystanders Sunday afternoon at a golf match between the two Green brothers on the Oakmont Country club course, for before the game began it was decided that the loser should be host to the families at Sunday night dinner at the club.

The game was close and Dan Green was loser by just two holes, and was therefore declared dinner host. Clever appointments were arranged for the dinner table, a miniature golf course forming the centerpiece. Places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Connor, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams, Hermosa Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Omar Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Green, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cooper, La Canada; Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Max Green and daughter Barbara, Glendale.

Central Avenue P.-T.A. Will Meet Thursday

Mrs. F. B. Martin, chairman of legislation for the First District, Parent-Teacher associations, is to be the honored guest and speaker Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the Central Avenue Parent-Teacher association. It will be the first meeting of the new year, under the presidency of Mrs. Alice Ripley. The association meets at 3:15 o'clock. James F. McMaster, principal, will also speak. Vocal numbers will be given by Mrs. Burris.

Previous to the association meeting, the executive board will entertain the teachers at luncheon at the Casa Verdugo Methodist church. Later the board will meet at 2:15 o'clock. The children on Sunday are to enjoy the annual "cake feed," served by the P.-T. A. at the close of the annual drive for members.

Elks Hear Report by Committee on Picnic

The committee planning for the annual picnic of Glendale Lodge, No. 1289, B. P. O. E., which will be held Sunday, October 19, at Whiting's ranch, reported at the regular meeting last night that plans for the event were progressing nicely. A report from the committee arranging for "Jinks Night" October 20, reported that plans for this event were progressing in a satisfactory manner.

Plan Silver Tea to Raise Society Fund

A silver tea will be given by Mrs. E. H. Scott and Mrs. George H. Moore at the home of Mrs. Moore at 221 West Elk street tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock for the benefit of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church. All members of the church and friends are most cordially invited to attend.

AUTO DASHES OVER CLIFF INTO SEA

Rolls Out of Garage Across Road and Falls Forty Feet Into Ocean

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ballagh of 308 North Louise street returned to Glendale at a late hour last night from a sojourn at their summer home at Santa Monica, minus their specially built Nash limousine. The car was badly wrecked at noon Sunday when it got beyond control and dashed over a forty-foot cliff onto the rocks beneath.

According to Mrs. Ballagh, the car was held by blocks in the garage of their summer hillside home. Unfortunately, the brakes of the car had not been set when the blocks were placed behind the wheels. Therefore when the blocks were taken away the large car gathered momentum immediately and before it could be controlled it dashed backward across the highway and bounded down over the rocks for forty feet. Because of its weight the car did not turn over and so was not as badly damaged as it might have been.

Representatives of the automobile club worked five hours in getting the car back onto the highway. A crowd of 5000 people watched the work.

ADVENTISTS TO GATHER IN IOWA

Many Delegates From Pacific Coast Conference Will Attend World Meet

Seventh-day Adventist leaders throughout the Pacific coast states will attend the biennial convention of the general conference of the denomination in Des Moines, Iowa, October 14 to 23.

Under the leadership of Rev. J. L. McElhaney of Glendale, president of the Pacific Union conference, every local conference president in California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona will go, together with representatives of the educational and medical institutions in this territory. Every one of the several hundred local churches in these states will be represented. The leaders of the state delegations will be as follows:

Revs. O. O. Bernstein, recently elected president of the Southern California conference; A. R. Sandborn, president of the Arizona conference; G. A. Roberts, president of the California conference; E. L. Neff, president of the Central California conference; J. J. Nethery, president of the Southeastern California conference; V. E. Peugh, president of the Nevada conference; Clarence Santee, president of the Northern California conference; Prof. W. E. Nelson, president of Pacific Union college, located at La Jota, Calif.; Dr. P. T. Magan, dean of the White Memorial hospital in Los Angeles, and medical superintendent of the Pacific Union conference; Dr. Newton Evans, president of the College of Medical Evangelists in Loma Linda, Calif.; C. H. Jones, president of the Pacific Press Publishing association in Mountain View, Calif.; G. W. Reaser, of Glendale, Calif., and others.

World Delegates

This gathering will be to the Adventists what a meeting of the board of bishops would be to the Methodist Episcopal church. It will bring all the officers of the World's General conference, together with departmental secretaries of this organization, which has its headquarters in Washington, D. C. It will also bring the leading representatives of the church from Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, Central America, and some other foreign countries.

The purpose of the convention is to make plans for the advancement of the denomination in all parts of the world. Rev. W. A. Spicer, president of the World's General conference, will be the chairman, and the vice-presidents of the divisional conferences of the world will be associate chairmen. These will include:

Divisional Heads

Revs. O. Montgomery, of Washington, D. C., vice-president of the North American Division Conference; L. H. Christian, of Berne, Switzerland, vice-president of the European Division Conference; E. E. Andross, of Balboa, Panama, vice-president of the Inter-American Division Conference; I. H. Evans, of Shanghai, China, vice-president of the Far Eastern Division Conference; A. W. Cormack, of Poona, India, vice-president of the Far Eastern Division Conference; W. H. Branson, of Cape Town, vice-president of the South African Division Conference, and P. E. Brodersen, of Buenos Aires, Argentina vice-president of the South American Division Conference.

The Adventists are now operating mission stations in more than 100 countries and 115 languages, and during this convention they will appropriate several million dollars for the advancement of their church in foreign lands. It was explained by one of the leaders that their stupendous missionary operations are

START WORK ON HOTEL BUILDING

Contractors Prepare to Put In Heavy Foundations On Glendale Ave.

Actual building operations on the long awaited Hotel Glendale at the northeast corner of East Broadway and Glendale avenue are under way, announces C. W. Ingledue, president of the corporation that is back of this bix six-story, $600,000 project.

Through a gap in the high wooden fence surrounding the corner, passers-by could see the Kinne & Westerhouse gang laying out stakes and making its preliminary surveys for the heavy foundation work that is to support this large structure.

Finished By May

The contract entered into between the Hotel Glendale, Inc., and Kinne & Westerhouse, engineers and contractors, allows 200 working days for the completion of the structure, Mr. Ingledue states. The hotel will therefore be finished about next May.

It will be a Class A building and will contain 180 rooms. There will be a complete basement, containing two dining rooms, kitchens and a game room, states Mr. Ingledue. On the main floor there will be four shops and a luxurious lobby and mezzanine.

Room For Banquets

One of the features of the building is the large ballroom which can be converted into a dining hall of ample proportions to accommodate practically any club or organization for banquet purposes.

The architectural style of the building is Spanish-Colonial. It fronts 129 feet on Glendale avenue and 136 feet on East Broadway, Mr. Ingledue states. Kinne & Westerhouse, the contractors, are at present engaged in erecting the West Coast Theatre building at 220 North Brand Boulevard.

Mrs. George Pratt Is Hostess for Mah Jongg

Members of the Mah Jongg club wended their ways to the home of Mrs. George B. Pratt at 356 Myrtle street last night to play mah jongg. Two tables were in play with the following members present: Mesdames Arthur Dibbern, James Atfelt, George Smith, Walter Jones, Earl Pendroy, Boothby, Ed Herring and George B. Pratt. Light refreshments served by the hostess concluded a pleasant evening. The club will meet with Mrs. Arthur Dibbern next Monday night.

Dramatic Club Names Officers for Season

The Dramatic Club of the Emerson School of Self-Expression held the first meeting of the season Monday night and officers were elected as follows: Mrs. C. E. Murphy, president; C. A. Comfort, vice-president; Mrs. Martha E. Hunter, secretary; Mrs. C. Uhlenbrock, treasurer; C. A. Holway, publicity manager. Plays were discussed by the director, Evelyn M. S. Labadie, followed by the serving of refreshments and a social hour.

Officers of Student Body to Be Elected

Election of student body officers will take place at Glendale Intermediate Thursday morning. Candidates for the office of president, whose petitions are filed, are Betty Biggs and Alehandre Madrid. Betty Biggs is a member of the A-8 I class and Alehandre Madrid is a B-8 I.

Business Back To Normal, Glendale Conditions Good, Asserts H. S. Webb, Merchant

Southern California in general, and Glendale in particular, is now in the adjustment period of good business, is the view on present local conditions taken by H. S. Webb, proprietor of H. S. Webb & Co., whose large department store at 139 North Brand boulevard and smart Men's shop at 105 South Brand boulevard are known to thousands of Glendale people.

"A year ago business was being done at a high overhead, because of extravagant buying," says Mr. Webb. "Business wisdom has since been to reduce stocks and overhead in proportion to normal business. A year ago we were riding fast, but we didn't know where we were going. Now we are not traveling so fast, it is true, but in a much safer boat.

Returning to Normal

"There is no depression, either in Glendale or elsewhere in Southern California. We are simply returning to normal. To many, the contrast between normal and boom conditions seems like depression. Those who will carefully analyze the present situation, however, will see that it has every aspect of good, healthy, normal business, with prospects of steady improvement during the fall and winter."

Since H. S. Webb & Co. moved to the present location in June, every month has shown gains over a year ago, according to actual figures taken from the books in Mr. Webb's accounting department.

Service and Courtesy

The average number of customers they had per month during June, July, August and September is 45,000 to 60,000, while the lowest number of customers they have had in any month since moving to the new store is 40,000 customers, the books show.

Mr. Webb has built his business on service and courtesy, and he is satisfied that his thousands of satisfied customers, representing in the aggregate his greatest business asset, are the result of an ideal which he has adhered to ever since he first opened up in Glendale, June 25, 1917.

Wed Sixty Years Ago; Celebration Is Held

Happiness of greeting relatives and long-time friends, countless lovely gifts, messages from near and far and many bouquets of beautiful California flowers, combined yesterday in the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Starkweather, who celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary at their home, 414 East Wilson avenue. Their daughter, Mrs. Marie Gifford, received the guests, who arrived during the afternoon and at night.

Those calling came from Hollywood, Long Beach, Inglewood, Victorville and Glendale. Mrs. Starkweather was particularly happy to have her sister, Mrs. J. C. Knorpp of Long Beach, with her for the day. Mrs. Knorpp, who is 77 years old, just six years younger than Mrs. Starkweather, was the only guest yesterday who attended the wedding sixty years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Starkweather were married in their native state, Pennsylvania, and lived there most of their lives until coming to Glendale four years ago. Previous to that time they spent two years in Missouri.

Birthday Party Given For Thelma Wilson

Little Miss Thelma Wilson was given a surprise birthday party by her mother, Mrs. Arthur Wilson at 1106 East Palmer street Saturday afternoon, eighteen little girls having been invited to enjoy the occasion with the honoree. Games were played during the afternoon and prizes were awarded to the winners of the contest games. The table was beautifully decorated in pink and yellow, the favors being dolls dressed in colonial costumes in pastel shades and baskets at each place contained candy. The birthday cake decorated in pink and white was an added decoration. Mrs. Wilson was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Welch and served the little folk with refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy.

Madrigal Club Holds Rehearsal at Church

The first rehearsal of the Madrigal club was held yesterday afternoon at the First Congregational church under the direction of Mrs. Charles A. Parker. The rehearsals are to be held at 1:45 o'clock every afternoon at the same place. Announcement is made that the active membership is to remain open until November 3. Those desiring to join are asked to call the president, Mrs. Paul Hoffman. Mrs. Charles Meadows was elected to succeed Mrs. E. Henzel, who resigned as treasurer because of leave of absence.

The grocery store of R. W. Parker at 836 South Glendale avenue was broken into some time Sunday night and robbed of $40 in cash. Police investigation disclosed the fact that entrance was gained through a rear window. No fingerprints could be located.

Slogans of H. S. Webb Point Way to Success

The following slogans and mottoes of H. S. Webb go a long way toward explaining the nature of the man and the remarkable business success that has been his during his eight years of business in this city:

"The customer must be sold, even more than the merchandise."

"We have no clock for the employes of this store to punch. They are on their honor here."

"I want the ideals of business reflected in this store as nearly perfect as it is possible to reflect them commercially."

"Every piece of merchandise sold here reflects my business ideal and reiterates the faith of the customers in this store."

"I say good morning to my employes 365 days a year. An atmosphere of equality pervades our relations."

"I have no partners. I don't want any. I feel that all my employes are my partners, the other half of my business ideal. I say of them, I need you and you need me. That is the foundation of organization. If you get that secret to working for you, you are bound to have harmony and success."

Grass Fire Calls Out Local Fire Department

A grass fire at the corner of Kenilworth avenue and West Harvard street, at 6:45 o'clock last night, attracted the attention of crowds returning from work. Chief A. H. Lankford of the Glendale fire department reports that it was promptly extinguished and no damage done.

WELCOME TO REALTORS PLANNED

Delegates to State Meet From Northern California To Arrive Here Today

Northern California's realtors, about 350 strong, will be welcomed in Glendale at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon by a delegation of the Glendale Realty board and will then be taken on a tour of the city before leaving for Pasadena, where the annual state convention of the California Real Estate association opens tomorrow. The motor caravan will be met at Burbank by the local realtors and escorted through the business and residential sections of this city.

Glendale's plan of sending 100 per cent membership to the annual gathering, which officially opens tomorrow, is progressing nicely, and, according to President Peter Hanson, the goal will be reached if every one registers who has promised to. Advance registration for the convention has reached 1000 already, according to information from Pasadena and this figure will be greatly increased with the arrival of the northern caravan. More than 500 persons have arrived in Pasadena awaiting the opening of the convention.

Directors to Meet

The final meeting of the 1924 board of directors of the state association will be held tonight at the Hotel Maryland but no official business will be transacted until tomorrow. H. Robert Ennis and Herbert U. Nelson, president and secretary of the National Association of Real Estate boards are expected to arrive tomorrow to be in attendance at the meeting and Governor Friend W. Richardson will reach Pasadena Friday to address the realtors.

Mayor Robinson of Pasadena will officially open the convention at 10 o'clock tomorrow and the keys of the city will be turned over to the visiting members of real estate boards. Additional police protection has been provided for the many automobiles to be parked about the city.

Glendale's first part in the convention will be the welcome extended the northern realtors, from Oakland, Sacramento, Fresno and other cities of the north. The visitors will probably be shown through the city once more also when the tour of the south is given them by Pasadena, as an effort will be made to route them through Glendale.

Glendale's booth, its attractive banners and caps, and the songs to be given out as souvenirs, all go to make up the program to be carried out by the local board. In addition part will be taken in the business sessions by President Peter Hanson and other members and the sports committee has lined up a strong aggregation of players to contest in the golf, horseshoe and tennis tournaments. The golf team which will compete Saturday is made up of Dickinson, Galvin, Hanson, Sullivan, Fairchild and Hepburn.

New Members Are Taken Into Auxiliary

Mrs. Charles H. Toll and Mrs. Wooley were new members admitted to membership in the Glendale auxiliary of the Children's hospital at the monthly meeting held yesterday afternoon in the home of the president, Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan, at 1125 South Central avenue. Mrs. Morgan explained to the members that the Children's hospital in Los Angeles had decided to join the Los Angeles Community Chest, will reservations that they keep the auxiliaries, admit children from outlying districts, that they keep the salvage department, and that all money earned by the auxiliaries be used for the building fund for a new wing for the hospital. The Los Angeles Community Chest now supplies the hospital with all materials, and the hospital, in turn, supplies the auxiliaries with materials, any money donated or raised being given to the building fund. To show just how badly a new wing is needed at the hospital, during the month of August alone 224 children were turned away.

Attending the meeting were: Mrs. Morgan, president; Mrs. F. W. Kille, secretary and representing Chapter BA, P. E. O.; Mrs. E. V. Bacon, vice-president; Mrs. T. G. McDougal, director and representative of Chapter DJ; Mrs. Barry, representing Chapter AH; Mrs. P. E. Maxwell, director, and also representing Chapter L. Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, secretary, was unable to be present on account of illness. A social hour followed the delicious refreshments.

Invites College Women To Club Garden Party

With a view to enrolling all eligible college and university women in Glendale, Mrs. Frank Parr,, president of the Glendale College Women's club, extends an invitation to them to attend the meeting and garden party of the club with Miss Charlotte Spier, Saturday afternoon at her home 615 South Verdugo road. It will be the first event of the club year. Mrs. Parr is to preside over the business meeting beginning at 2 o'clock. Several amendments to the by-laws will be considered and other important business transacted. Following the meeting a program and social hour will be features.

Those having no means of transportation are asked to call Mrs. Parr at Glendale 1124-J. Women interested in joining the club are asked to call Mrs. Eula Mitchell, Glendale 3567-M.

Local People Home From Trip Thru North

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Story of 314 West Pioneer drive, arrived home Saturday from a three months' vacation trip in Oregon and Washington. One of the features of the trip was a reunion of six sisters, their husbands, children and grandchildren. There were twenty-eight present for the dinner. The Storys visited in Oregon City, Gladstone, Salem and Southern Oregon, and Long View, Wash. During their absence their son, Vernon Story, and wife, occupied their home.

CLUB WOMEN HEAR NEED OF VOTE

Mrs. Charles H. Toll Leads In Movement to Secure Attendance at Polls

Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Glendale, president of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, is ardently urging all district club women to cast their ballots in the general election in November.

With this in view she has arranged a roundtable discussion on the most effective manner of getting voters out to vote, to be a feature of the second presidents' council of the district, Friday at the Ebell club of Los Angeles.

The general theme of this council will be "Education." There will be the roundtable discussion in the morning, followed by luncheon.

Various Divisions

From 1 till 4 o'clock in the afternoon, will be divided equally among the eight chairmen of education, California history and landmarks, conservation, forests and waterways, conservation of birds and wild flowers, home economics, country life, information and reciprocity and program bureau, motion pictures.

Further activity to interest enfranchised women in their power to vote will be the American Citizenship and International Relations institute to be held Friday, October 31 and Saturday, Nov. 1, at the Catholic Women's clubhouse, 927 South Menlo avenue, Los Angeles, under the auspices of the Los Angeles district.

Active Campaign

The sessions of the institute, arranged by Mrs. Lyman B. S. Stooker, district chairman of American Citizenship, will be from 10 to 12 o'clock in the mornings, and from 2 till 4 o'clock in the afternoons.

During the month of September Mrs. Toll spoke before seven clubs. She has fourteen speaking engagements in the district for this month.

Membership Drive of Student Body Closed

The membership drive that has been going on at the Glendale Intermediate school in the interests of their Associated Student Body closed Monday afternoon. Eight classes, listed as follows, boasted 100 per cent membership: A-7 I class, Miss Avis White, teacher; B-7 I class, Mrs. Westerhout, teacher; B-7 II class, Mrs. Horner, teacher; B-8 I class, Miss Ruth Williams, teacher; B-8 II class, Miss Jennie Lacy, teacher; B8 IV class, Miss Natalie McKay, teacher; A-8 I class, Miss Lorene Fritch, teacher; A-7 II class, Miss Carolyn Ainsworth, teacher; B-7 II class, Miss Ruth Arthur, teacher. These classes will be awarded banners to crown their efforts in behalf of the Associated Student Body.

THE IF IN LIFE

IF is the biggest little word in the English language.

IF is the alibi of every man who has made a financial failure of life.

"IF I only had $1000; I have the chance of a lifetime." Did you say that, or did you hear it?

The man who is inclined to blame everything and everyone else for his misfortunes in life, generally has no one to blame but himself.

Don't let this fatal IF stand forever in the way of your future happiness.

IF STANDS FOR HOPE AS WELL AS FAILURE.

IF, for instance, you will deposit only $3.50 weekly in a savings account in this Bank, in five years you will have accumulated $1000.00 of which amount we will have added about $100 as interest. Save more and you will have more.

It is up to you to say whether this little word IF will represent "I Fulfilled" or "I Failed," five years hence.

CURBING THE SUPREME COURT

The constitution of the United States grants relatively few powers to Congress. The affairs of the states are regulated by their own legislatures. The constitution operates to restrain Congress from interfering with certain individual rights, as well as with the powers that are reserved to the several states. It also operates to restrain the state governments from interfering with federal matters and with certain individual rights. Congressional enactments must be limited to matters affecting all states alike, such as coining money, carrying the mails, maintaining the army and navy, and such national activities.

Deprive the supreme court of the power it now has to declare acts of Congress unconstitutional and what would be the result? It would give Congress the right and power to override individual rights, to overstep the bounds which now limit the federal government, and encroach upon the states. Congress would be the virtual interpreters of the constitution, for, although the supreme court did pass on these questions, senators and congressmen would have the deciding voice. If a majority of both houses were to persist in passing a certain bill and should override the president's veto, the measure would at once become a law. Should there be litigation between individuals, one of whom should claim a right under the law and the other declare the statute was in violation of the constitution, the answer would be that congress, in passing the law, had declared it constitutional, and there could be no comeback from any source.

For instance, Congress could revise the land laws of California and establish a new policy in regard to alien ownership. The people of California could make no objection, for, in the very act of passing the measure, Congress declared it to be in harmony with the constitution.

At present such legislation would be declared by the supreme court to lie outside the scope of the powers of Congress. Some one has defined the supreme court as "a device to prevent the federal government from eating up the states and to prevent the states from strangling the federal government."

It is argued that congressmen may be able to interpret the constitution as intelligently as judges. Baseball players may be as intelligent, or more so, than umpires, but the excitement of the game, expediency and other elements unite to make it impractical to have the rules of the game interpreted by the players.

Congress might not encroach upon the states in many cases, but it would be permissible for it to do so, and we would have no guarantee that it would not do so.

The supreme court is not infallible. It has rendered decisions that have seemed to a great many people to be unwise, but the people should take thought of the consequences before advocating any measure that would relegate the powers of this body to Congress.

KILLING GOOSE THAT LAID GOLDEN EGG

It is strange that there should be any effort or desire on the part of Americans to destroy the forces that have made our country pre-eminent among the nations of the world as a land of opportunity. Other nations recognize our standing as a country where wages and standards of living are of the highest. Hordes from the old countries are constantly trying to gain admission to the United States, and what a cry was heard when our last Congress passed a law restricting immigration.

William Z. Foster, Communist candidate for the presidency, holds Russia up as the ideal for America, and there are others who make pleas almost as ridiculous.

The British Labor government recently compiled a table comparing London wages with those of other cities of the world. These statistics showed that the wage earner in New York could buy 2.17 as much food as the one in London, 4 times as much as in Vienna, 3.8 times as much as in Berlin, 4.5 as much as in Madrid and so on.

Those who close their eyes to the real facts, that the working man in the United States was never so well paid, so well educated, or had so much leisure and so many luxuries as he has today, have not their own best interests at heart.

Granting that the American working man wants more privileges and higher wages, and granting also that he deserves them, destroying the causes that have brought him thus far on the road to his ideal living conditions, would be like killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

TAMMANY OR TEDDY?

Governor Al Smith of New York says that election to the New York state legislature was the turning point in his life that headed him toward a political career. The late Theodore Roosevelt found the governorship of New York a stepping stone in his upward climb to great usefulness in politics. And now his son is seeking to follow him.

Governor Smith, a New York "east side" boy, is backed by the traditions of Tammany Hall, while young Roosevelt has the memory and the fighting blood of his illustrious father to aid him. Already he has followed that father as a soldier and a colonel, a New York assemblyman and assistant secretary of the navy. Will he win the race for governor of New York and follow all the way to the White House? The campaign is already waxing interesting, for neither candidate is a mean fighter.

AN OVERWORKED ALIBI

The story is told of a French newspaper man who had passed his hundredth year. He was planning, he said, to write a great novel when he had time to get down to it. "I haven't time," is the best excuse and the most faithful alibi that was ever invented, but it has been sadly overworked. Some people spend more time telling that they haven't time to do the things they ought to do than they spend in action. But they fool no one but themselves.

Lack of time is the universal excuse for procrastination. "I haven't done so and so because I haven't had time," is by no means an original remark. It is only the very busy people who scorn to make use of this time-worn plea.

Women used to spend their time teaching and training their children. Now they have more leisure, for children are born with more knowledge than their parents possess.

ELECTION COMING AND ONLY ONE BARREL OPERATING

A Shifting Instrument

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The intellect, for all that may be said of it, is a frail reed to lean upon.

It is a question whether it is governed more by traditions, customs, instincts and passions than by reason. Certain it is that unless there be some check upon the reason it is liable to lead us into all kinds of difficulty.

This was brought out by one of the experts in the Leopold and Loeb trial.

"The idea," said he, "for these master criminals was to do a good job. It was to be thoroughly and completely planned. There was to be no clue. An intellectual feat was to be accomplished."

In fact, the whole Leopold-Loeb case shows what the unaided intellect, solely depended upon, will lead us to. Unless there are sound instincts, underlying natural repulsions and attractions, that hold us to the mass of humanity and to decent conduct, the intelligence is liable to lead us astray.

People of very rudimentary intellect, grossly uneducated people, may, at the same time, be law-abiding and good neighbors. While the most dangerous rascal unhung is likely to be gifted with extraordinary powers.

The intellect is the cutting edge of a man. But if the desires be wrong in the first place, the more intelligence he has, the more capable he is of doing harm.

It is just like sharpening an axe. The training of the intellect is putting a good edge upon a piece of steel, but if the steel itself is rotten, it makes no difference how well it is sharpened.

Whether the plea of mental deficiency or moral deficiency is a good one on the part of young Leopold and Loeb, we do not presume to say, but we do dare to assert that a man is safest in sticking to the great moralities which he has inherited from the race. He is safer, far, in so doing than in blazing a new way for himself. He who is guided by the moralities is governed by laws that have slowly been developed by the evolution of mankind. He who is governed by his intelligence alone is under the charge of a faulty master.

This is not a plea for ignorance, nor any devil's argument in favor of the abandonment of reason. It is indeed a plea for a deeper education, the education of the morals more than of the brain.

Horoscope

While the Sun in benefic aspect gives much encouragement, astrologers interpret this as a day in which to be careful, for Mars and Uranus are adverse.

Warning is given of the tendency toward selfishness that will manifest itself in all sorts of people. Greed and lack of helpfulness may be expected.

Treachery may be marked in certain political quarters from this time on, if the stars are rightly interpreted.

There is a fairly promising sign for beginning new work as employers or leaders of men are subject to planetary influences making for good feeling.

Over confidence may be common at this period when nervous stimulation may be marked and growth of egotism will cause both men and women to be certain of their own success.

There is a sign read as presaging victory in the election to those who belong to the established order of things.

The seers assert that with this decade all the men and women long famous will either pass away or will be succeeded by younger persons.

With the rapid unfolding of the new era startling changes will be recorded and racial evolution will be most surprising it is prophesied.

According to certain seers the civilization of the western world reached its climax in the beginning of the last century and its fullest development is manifesting now when we are about to suffer a decline.

Material success will be worshipped more and more for a time, but it is to bring the world into another war, the seers foretell, and then will come the test of the survival of the physically fit.

Women will be responsible for much calamity, it is foretold unless they turn away from modern license which has made them careless of their most exalted duty to humanity, the bearing of children.

Persons whose birthdate it is should beware of false friends in the coming year. They may expect a very fortunate period.

Children born on this day will probably prosper best under employers. These subjects of Libra often succeed well in engraving, surveying and engineering.

Today's Poem

SONG

Let my voice ring out and over the earth,
Through all the grief and strife,
With a golden joy in a silver mirth:
Thank God for life!

Let my voice swell out through the great abyss
To the azure dome above,
With a chord of faith in the harp of bliss:
Thank God for Love!

Let my voice thrill out beneath and above,
The whole world through:
O my Love and Life, O my Life and Love,
Thank God for you!

—John Thomson.

CO-EDUCATIONAL COERCION

The speaker waxed eloquent, and after an oration on woman's rights, he said: "When they take our girls as they threaten, away from our co-educational colleges, what will follow? What will follow, I repeat?"

And a loud masculine voice in the audience replied: "I will."

HIS MISTAKE

The wearied and haggard shop assistant had been kept busy so long by an importunate customer that eventually he cried:

"Madam, are you shopping here?"

"Certainly," retorted the woman.

"Oh," went on the assistant, "I thought you were taking an inventory!"

CALL THE DOCTOR

A negro entered the general store of a small town and complained to the storekeeper that a ham he had purchased a few days before had proved not to be good.

"The ham is all right, Sam," insisted the storekeeper.

"No, it ain't boss," insisted the other. "Dat ham's sure bad."

"How can it be," continued the storekeeper, "when it was cured only last week?"

Sam reflected solemnly a moment and then suggested:

"Maybe it's done had a relapse."

Who's Who

JAMES WADSWORTH, JR.

Senator James Wadsworth, Jr., credited with swinging the nomination of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., as Republican candidate for governor of New York state, is now looked upon as G. O. P. boss of the state by political students.

Wadsworth assured the nomination of young Roosevelt, it is said, when the former swung his support from Speaker Machold of the state assembly to Roosevelt.

Wadsworth has been a U. S. senator since 1914. He first attracted political attention while in the lower house of the legislature of the Empire state when he fought bitterly the direct primary law advocated by the then Governor Hughes. It is interesting to recall at this time that young Roosevelt's father endorsed the proposed law.

Wadsworth supported the war policies of President Wilson but opposed strongly the entry of the U. S. into the League of Nations.

He married a daughter of John Hay, regarded as one of America's greatest statesmen and diplomats.

Making Presidents

By H. Irving King

IN 1832

When Jackson came into office Washington became a storm center, politically and socially. One of his many political "rows and rumpuses" was his quarrel with Calhoun and he set society by the ears and disrupted his cabinet by his championship of the beautiful Peggy O'Neill, the wife of General Eaton, secretary of war. Bitter partisanship sprang up all over the country; but Old Hickory was in his element in a fight. Before Jackson came up for re-election a third party had suddenly appeared and attained surprising prestige, especially in the north—the anti-Mason party, opposed to Masonry and all secret societies. This party called a national convention which met first in New York and then adjourned to Baltimore where, in September of 1831, it nominated William Wirt of Maryland for president and Amos Ellmaker of Pennsylvania for vice-president. This is regarded by some as the first national convention ever called, forgetting the "conference," as it was termed, called by the Federalists in 1812. Wirt was the ablest lawyer of his day, a polished orator and an author of repute. His prosecution of Aaron Burr had added to his fame. In December the National Republicans held a convention and nominated Henry Clay for president and John Sergeant of Pennsylvania for vice-president. The following May the Democrats held a convention and nominated Jackson for president and Martin Van Buren of New York for vice president. Van Buren was as "slick" a politician as New York ever produced—which is saying a good deal—and he proposed to ultimately succeed Jackson in the presidency. As Jackson's secretary of state his "fine Italian hand" had been visible in the overthrow of Calhoun and in many other of the acts and policies of his chief. The campaign was a "hot" one accompanied by a vast amount of "mud-slinging." If Jackson's followers were accused of hero-worship, Clay's followers idolized their leader. Jackson's veto of the bill rechartering the National bank, which had disturbed the business interests, would, it was thought, act to his detriment. But it seems only to have added to his popularity. In the campaigns of those days "the banks" played the part played by "Wall street" in the political campaigns of today. Jackson and Van Buren were overwhelmingly elected, Jackson getting 219 electoral votes to Clay's 49 and Wirt's 7. In the popular vote of something over 1,217,000 Jackson beat Clay by over 150,000.

How is a first mortgage loan made?

Every mortgage loan made by the Gibraltar Finance Corporation must meet our rigid system of safeguards. First of all an accurate estimate of the value of the property is made—the long experience of the management in the real estate field insures expert judgment.

This appraisal begins with the value of the land on which the building is erected — its location must be such as to make its value stable. Surroundings, transportation facilities, sanitary conditions are all carefully weighed and judged.

Next comes an appraisal of the value of the building. It must be well constructed, in keeping with its neighborhood, and in good repair. Next comes the question of legality —the Company sees that no flaw exists in the title, that the mortgage is properly drawn and recorded, that taxes are promptly paid, and that the building is fully covered by fire insurance.

As the Company makes no loan exceeding 60% of the appraised value of the land and building combined, it is fully protected by the large margin of value which exists in excess of the amount of the mortgage.

Do you know that-- —mortgage loans are one of the safest investments known?

—every dollar of yours invested in the Gibraltar Finance Corporation is secured by first mortgages and trust deeds?

you will be paid 8% on the Preferred Stock and will share in the profits of the Common?

You Can Profit With Safety

Every dollar of yours invested in the Gibraltar Finance Corporation is secured by these first mortgages and trust deeds — they are tangible assets which meet every test of SAFETY.

We Invite Your Co-operation

You are invited to share in the large profits to be derived from making mortgage loans. Call at our office today and we will show you how these profits are made, and how your money is rigidly safeguarded at all times. Or mail the coupon below and full information will reach you by return mail.

Elder L. H. Christian Is Visitor In Glendale

Elder L. H. Christian, president of the European division of the General conference of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, whose territory includes Germany, Poland, Scandinavia and parts of Russia, was in Glendale yesterday afternoon en route to the Adventist general conference council in Des Moines, Iowa, October 14 to 23. During his stay he was the guest of Elder J. L. McElhany, president of the Pacific Union conference, and these two distinguished Adventist leaders recalled with pleasure their tour of Europe this summer, when Elder McElhany was abroad on conference work.

After a visit to the new Glendale Sanitarium, Elder Christian left for points en route to Des Moines. Elder McElhany leaves tonight for the same destination, accompanied by Elder J. A. Burden, business manager of the sanitarium; Dr. A. W. Truman, medical superintendent, and Dr. C. C. Landis, surgeon at that institution. They will attend the medical convention opening at Des Moines, October 10, as a prelude to the General conference council.

Permanent Committee For Luncheon Named

The permanent committee which will have charge of the Chamber of Commerce luncheons in the future was named yesterday by Howard I. Wood, secretary of the local body. The first luncheon is scheduled for Thursday at 12:15 o'clock at the Alley Inn and accommodations will be made for sixty guests.

Milford Coye was appointed chairman of the committee which includes C. E. Michael, George F. Orgibet, Fred Reinecke and J. Arthur Myer. Each member of this committee will be responsible for ten guests at the luncheon and a few reservations may yet be made, Mr. Wood states.

Oscar A. Berman, of Ontario, recognized as an industrial leader in the south, will be the principal speaker at Thursday's meeting. Mr. Berman will speak on "Glendale's Future in Industry—What Shall It Be?" Mr. Coye will have charge of the next meeting of the luncheon club and the following meetings will be handled by George F. Orgibet, October 23; J. A. Myer, October 30; Frederick Reinecke, November 6, and C. E. Michael, November 13.

It is the hope of the Chamber of Commerce that local people not already members of luncheon clubs will take advantage of the chamber luncheon and meet to discuss problems of interest to all. Those who are members of other clubs are also welcome to attend. George B. Karr, second vice-president, will preside.

Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital

Special Correspondence

Dr. F. E. Herzr, who has been in the government service in the Philippines for several years, has returned to this country with his family and will be connected with the Glendale Sanitarium and White Memorial Hospital in the city of Los Angeles.

Last night a medical question box was conducted in the sanitarium by Dr. H. W. Vollmer and was much enjoyed by those who were interested in getting practical information on various dietetic, hygienic and medical questions.

Quite a large list of new patients were registered yesterday. The whole institution is as busy as a bee-hive in the various departments, each doing its part in ministering to the folk who come here for treatments and medical attention.

QUICK SALES FOR FRAZIER MT. PARK

Large Crowds Visit Tract on Sunday, Buy or Reserve Sites for Homes

"Provided that the crowd brought to Frazier Mountain park in more than 200 automobiles from Los Angeles, Glendale, Taft, Bakersfield and other Southern California cities last Sunday, is any indication of what we may expect next Sunday, it is very certain our first unit of this wonderful mountain resort will be sold at that time," said W. L Twining, vice-president of the company, this morning.

In company with L. H. Myers, treasurer; Harry G. MacBain, secretary; and twelve salesmen, Mr. Twining spent the entire day last Sunday at the park. From the standpoint of making sales and dealing with an interested crowd, Mr. Twining declared he had never found a more enthusiastic gathering of people to deal wth. "We were simply swamped, many persons buying or reserving several sites," he said.

Prices May Climb

The rapidity with which the first unit has been sold, he continued, will, in all possibility, mean that the second unit will go on sale at materially advanced prices.

At the present time Peter L. Ferry, contractor, has a gang of men busily engaged on the tract, building roads, cutting trails through the brush, laying out sites for, and building a string of fishing lakes. By next Sunday there will be more tables, fireplaces, croquet grounds and horseshoe pitching grounds, so that everyone can be well provided for in the line of amusements, the company has promised.

Starts Sale to Get Ready for Christmas

In anticipation of the holiday time, T. Kuranaga, manager of the Japan Art & Tea Co., at 135 South Brand boulevard, has arranged a mammoth sales event, for money raising purposes. All stock is to be offered at greatly reduced prices, and with all purchases coupons will be given for the popular annual drawing of the store.

Mr. Kuranaga states that the reason for ths sale is that since the earthquake in Tokio and Yokohama the connection with manufacturer and dealers is somewhat disturbed. They demand cash for everything. In order to get ready for Christmas he has therefore arranged this big sale.

Quarter of An Inch Of Rain Falls Here

Sunshine after the rain greeted Glendale residents today, following the first trace of rainfall for the season. Yesterday a slight sprinkle appeared about noon and last night .26 of an inch fell, according to H. E. Bartlett, local weather observer. Last night's fall represents the season's total. One year ago today, at the beginning of the season there was also .26 of an inch, Mr. Bartlett states.

The rain yesterday is the first in Glendale since April 25 when .17 of an inch fell. This amount brought the season's total for September 1, 1923-September 1, 1924, to 8.75 inches.

Park Board to Finish, Fence Tennis Courts

The Park board this morning authorized L. H. Wilson, its chairman, to take immediate steps to have the tennis courts at Patterson avenue park surfaced and fenced in. The meeting was held at the City Hall, Mr. Wilson presiding, and was attended by V. M. Hollister, Rev. C. M. Calderwood, L. T. Rowley, and by Sam Warren, park superintendent, and R. E. Tucker, superintendent of recreation.

Heart and Home — Health and Happiness

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Constipation and Purgatives

Mrs. A.—About the worst thing to do for constipation is to use a purgative every day. No wonder you have liver spots and other distressing symptoms. If you cannot overcome your condition by regulating your diet, take a goodly amount of abdominal exercises and add bran or agar to your diet. Mineral oil—you can take it in the form of mineral oil mayonnaise (make it as you do ordinary mayonnaise)—would be advisable also. Send for our articles on the atonic abdominal wall and constipation. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

If your constipation persists, after rational measures to correct it, you should surmise that you have some condition other than wrong habits as a cause of it. Sometimes chronic appendix or a chronic gall bladder disease will cause it. Have a thorough physical examination.

Exonerated!

"Dear Doctor:—I am an ardent admirer of yours and feel sure you are doing a wonderful work for humanity. I was fat, yes—some 50 pounds overweight—and have reduced about 40 pounds, and would not have it back for anything. Feel better and more vigorous and know I have a new lease on life. I had always thought God willed it or I would not be so, but you made me realize that it was due to surrendering to my own selfish appetite. The sacrifice of excess food has not been hard for in it I saw the happy result which meant health and better looks. I surely thank you for it and pray you may keep it up. I am passing it on to many others, as my husband is a minister and we are thrown in with all kinds and many need our help.—Mrs. W."

In the olden days all disease was thought to be a visitation from God. Now we know that it is a visitation from the devil (in ourselves, many times!). We realize that we have expected too much of God. He has given us a free will and intelligence and He expects us to use it, and we have no right to blame Him if we transgress His natural laws.

We cannot continue putting water into a bucket without its overflowing, unless we take out as much as we put in. We cannot continue to put food into our bodies without its overflowing, in the form of fat (or disease) unless we take it out in the form of extra work and exercises. Thank you for carrying on the work, Mrs. W.

Kidney Trouble and Dark Circles

Mrs. D.—No, we do not inherit kidney disease; nor are dark circles under the eyes inherited. You are under par for some reason, and in that condition there often is a congestion under the eyes. How about your diet and general habits, especially sleep? You should have a thorough physical examination. It may be possible that you have some condition in the pelvis which needs attention. That also may be the cause for your lame back. Send for our articles on balanced diet and auto-intoxication. They will help you. Also ask for the article on atonic abdominal wall. It contains instructions on exercises to build up the abdominal and back muscles which you do doubt need. Don't forget to enclose a good-sized, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Needs Medicine

B.—If you cannot afford to go to a physician in private practice is there not some medicine clinic in a nearby city? You need internal medication for the disorder you mention. It comes from an infection which only certain drugs can overcome. Certainly, have a normal diet containing milk, vegetables, fruit, nuts, natural grains. But you need medication also.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Cooking School Draws Crowd

Glendale women crowded into the Hahn auditorium at 109-A North Brand boulevard for the Better Homes, Better Food school, conducted last week by Mrs. Florence Austin Chase, nationally known homes and food expert, under the auspices of The Glendale Evening News. The school was held every afternoon for five days, Glendale women filling the hall at each session. The picture was taken on the final day.

P.-T. A. Benefit

The benefit card party given at the home of Mrs. Harry Jones, at 1215 East Wilson avenue, yesterday afternoon was attended by fifteen women, and games of five-hundred and bridge occupied the afternoon. When the scores were counted Mrs. Bell was awarded first prize for winning the game of five-hundred and Mrs. Crickard was awarded consolations in the same game. Mrs. Baines won the prize for holding high score in the bridge game. The prizes were blue luster cups and saucers. The proceeds of the card party will be used for the Wilson Avenue Parent-Teacher association, and a series of these affairs are being planned for this winter. Refreshments of cake tea and coffee were served by the hostess.

Mr. Garmand is a graduate of Mason City, Iowa, high school, where he made an enviable record in athletics, being elected captain of the school football team in his senior year. He has gone out for freshman football practice and hopes to make good among California athletes.

New Method Heals Pyorrhea

Ten Year Bad Case Completely Healed in a Short Time Writes Florida Woman

Faced with the loss of her teeth, after 10 years' suffering, Mrs. M. J. Travis, an esteemed resident of Jacksonville, declares she finally saved her teeth by a simple home treatment: "worth its weight in gold," using her own words: "After having pyorrhea for 10 years my mouth is now healed. Before I found out differently I was told there was no relief and had yielded to the loss of six fine solid teeth. Then I discovered Moore's pyorrhea treatment. Three days after starting its use, the soreness left my gums; my teeth began to tighten. Now my teeth are clean, my breath sweet and my mouth completely healed."

The experience of Mrs. Travis is duplicated in hundreds of other cases. If you have pyorrhea—or threatened with pyorrhea your teeth are in danger. Quick and effective treatment is necessary. You can test, without money risk, the treatment used by Mrs. Travis. Simply write the Moreham Co., 206 Gateway Station, Kansas City, Mo. Under their guarantee of refund send two dollars. Or, pay postman the $2 with few cents postage. Use the treatment seven days. Then if you are not wholly satisfied, write to that effect and your $2 will be returned at once. —Advertisement.

DEATHS – FUNERALS

HARRY R. SIBLEY

Funeral services for Harry R. Sibley, who died October 1 at a Los Angeles hospital, were held Saturday afternoon in the L. G. Scovern chapel on South Brand boulevard.

A former resident of Terre Haute, Ind., Mr. Sibley was a railroad man of wide experience. For eighteen years he served the Pennsylvania railroad as conductor. When he came west he was employed as conductor on the construction train building the Salt Lake railroad to Los Angeles. Since residing in Glendale he had been in the employ of the Santa Fe railroad.

Mr. Sibley had utmost faith in Glendale. He invested heavily here. At one time he owned twelve lots on Riverdale drive and Maple street. At the time of his death he owned the Brandale apartments on South Brand Blvd., the Bur-Glen ranch on Flower street and other properties in the foothill district.

Surviving him is his widow, Mrs. Laura E. Sibley, residing at the Bur-Glen ranch, and a daughter, Mrs. Leatha E. James of 1010 South Mariposa street, Glendale.

JAMES CLARK GRAY

James Clark Gray, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clark of Tujunga, died Tuesday, October 7, 1924. He is also survived by grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Maxwell of Burbank. Private funeral services are to be held and interment made in Forest Lawn Memorial park. Jewel City Undertaking Co. in charge.

BIRTHS

Dr. and Mrs. Curtis Beauchamp of 5201 Alverne street, Eagle Rock, are the parents of a daughter, born this morning, Tuesday, October 7, 1924, at the Glendale Research hospital.

Hail! Hail! The rain!

Even without the hail, we have the rain, the beautiful rain, as poet's license permits, to break the drought and bring gladness to the hearts of those who depend on water—and who doesn't in this dry land—to quench the thirst of animal and plant life.

California fared well, fortunately, in the face of an unusually dry season and the heavy downpour of the last twenty-four hours writes finis to forest fires, dust, and other bad features.

But the rain does present a problem which while being met should be subject of emergency measures here in Glendale. That is flood control.

With Sycamore canyon boulevarded the run off will be held to channels this winter more effectively than last, yet it is only right for those in the path of the flood water to take care they are not marooned. Likewise, some effective flood control work is being completed by the city at the corner of San Fernando and Brand boulevards. Mayhap other places will be revealed by the overnight torrents.

The California Real Estate association is holding its annual convention this week in Pasadena. Glendale realtors are going to be present 100 per cent.

Real estate is a worthy profession in this city. It is the means of an honest livelihood for hundreds of licensed brokers. And in the sessions of the association will be reflected the spirit and progress of the empire builders.

Just a word, too, regarding the splendid man they have at the head of the California Real Estate association. Henry Barbour of Long Beach, has given of his time, of his none too good health, and of his money to make "the realtor worthy of his profession."

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Oct. 7.—This community now has a well organized Mothers' Educational center, or "baby clinic," as it is called in less technical language, and Councilman Edwin Baker is conceded by the women of the Twentieth Century club to have been largely responsible for making it possible.

As a resident of Eagle Rock, Councilman Baker is naturally interested in this community, so when the petition of another section of Los Angeles for a baby clinic came before the City Council, he called the attention of that august body to the fact that the women of Eagle Rock had been trying to get such a clinic for over a year.

The council took favorable action, with the result that this community now has not only the necessary scales and other equipment but the services of a doctor and nurse as well. The next clinic is scheduled for October 13, at the Twentieth Century club on Colorado boulevard, states Mrs. A. G. Reily, president of the club.

The Miller building at 2122 Colorado boulevard, is now receiving the finishing touches. The work of erecting this building has progressed very rapidly and satisfactory to the parties concerned. Work was begun sixty days ago and is understood to be high class in every way. The structure is two stories in height with walls of brick, cement floor and base board on the first floor, while the second floor is finished in oak.

Women whose names were not previously mentioned in connection with the activities of the Harvest Home festival, October 10 and 11, have since been appointed as follows: Cocoa booth, Mrs. Kokomour and Mrs. Kneadler; Pop booth, Mrs. Turton and Mrs. Leland. All women who can, are asked to meet at the school cafeteria on Wednesday and Thursday to make home-made candy under the direction of Mrs. Wallace Quarterman. Exclusive entertainment features for the festival are being arranged by Mrs. R. J. Lippold.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Oct. 7.—Three carloads of grapes a day are being shipped out of this city, from the big McClure vineyard, consigned to Philadelphia. Thus far over fifty carloads have gone out and it is estimated by the vineyard managers that 150 carloads in all will be sent east.

Charles B. Wood has been made permanent chairman of the reorganized Burbank baseball team. The resignation of Mr. Pierson as manager has been accepted and Mr. Sergene selected as manager to fill his place with F. McIntyre named as assistant manager. Mr. Britsch has been chosen as captain and Lee Shelton field captain. "Happy" Minor has been made secretary-treasurer, with authority to raise all the money he can to rejuvenate the finances of the club. The board of directors consists of Charles B. Wood, president; Jim Wartman, vice president, and E. H. Wilson, who will have charge of the grounds.

At a Chamber of Commerce meeting to be called within the next two weeks, with "Our City" for its theme and open to the public, the results of the recent industrial survey will be made known, states Manager J. W. Charleville, who declares that after looking over some of this data he is truly surprised as to the industrial scope of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Smith of San Fernando were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Randall of Santa Anita avenue.

Mrs. G. C. Mann and children of Phoenix, Ariz., who spent the summer in Burbank, have returned to Phoenix.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Oct. 7.—Owing to new arrangements, the Woman's club of La Crescenta valley will be able to hold its first meeting of the season at the La Crescenta schoolhouse on Los Angeles avenue. Previous arrangements were to hold the meetings at the home of the president, Mrs. Charles Turck, as the school auditorium is at present being used as a classroom. On Wednesday, October 8, the meeting will be called to order promptly at 2:30 o'clock. his meeting is for members only. After the business of the afternoon is over there will be a cooked food sale, in charge of Mrs. E. Farmer, who will be glad to have donations of all cooked foods for the sale.

The dance given by the members of Verdugo Hills post No. 288 of the American Legion was very well attended and a fair sum was added to the building fund of the local buddies.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary and Charles O. Leary were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hauber and daughter, Miss Marguerite, at the Hauber home on West Montrose avenue.

The eighth grade was the first class to go on the honor roll for procuring the 100 per cent membership on the Athletic association's roll call during the first day of the contest.

The Aeolian Music club held its first meeting of the fall term at the home of its originator, Miss Marguerite Hauber, on Montrose avenue. Plans were made for the coming year's work and study, and according to the present programs, the members of this popular club will have the pleasure of hearing speakers, musicians and artists of note during the coming months. The club, which is composed of music students of the earnest type, also is planning to hear all the internationally famous artists when they appear in Los Angeles. Members present at the opening meeting were: The Misses Marion Keith, Dorothy Potter, Elizabeth Mottern, Mildred and Henrietta Biescar, John MacCormick, Arthur Crowell and William Welling. After the business meeting Miss Hauber was assisted in serving delicious refreshments by her mother, Mrs. J. L. Hauber.

The La Crescenta Parent-Teacher association's newly formed reading circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Marian Tilliary on East Altura street, where Mrs. Tilliary has posted a notice directing members to her residence. Mrs. Eudoxie Hall has mapped out a course of reading to be taken by the ladies and will present her first book for study on Wednesday, October 8, when the women will meet at the above address at 11 o'clock, studying till noon, when Mrs. Tilliary will serve tea to go with the sandwiches each member is to provide herself with. Study will be resumed at 1 till 2 o'clock, when the women will leave for the La Crescenta schoolhouse, where they will attend the business meeting of the La Crescenta Valley Woman's club. A cordial invitation is extended to all mothers of the valley to join the club reading circle by the president, Mrs. C. W. Angier.

An exceptionally heavy rain fell over the La Crescenta valley on Monday night.

CHAPTER LXXI

"Hilary, do you remember the disgusting old alarm clock that went off twice in the middle of the night? Do you remember the day I hulled strawberries all over the clean tablecloth? Don't you wish you could walk up the shell road, and into those woods behind Lovelands again, where the arbutus used to grow? And do you remember how many thousand times I made you sing 'Allan Water' when I was ill?"

These, and a thousand more half-smiling, half-sad memories tore at Hilary's heart. Her life had grown away from Butterfly's now; she was torn between the throbbing ecstasy of the new claim and the pathos of this little hurt, shadowed life that had needed her thus, had loved her thus, but one little year ago, a hundred Konrads could not have entrenched themselves in her heart! Her prayer then had been that Butterfly would need her! But she was Konrad's now, and every day was deepening the tie between them.

She went from Butterfly to her meetings with him, haunted by a wretched sense of disloyalty to her sister. It seemed wrong to be so happy when Dora was so sad.

One day in early March she and Konrad were fellow-guests at a house party in the Alexandrowskis' little lodge in the Berkshires. It was so primitive a place that the activities of all six of the party were briskly engaged from morning until night to insure mere warmth and food in the cold early spring weather, yet Hilary and Kronski agreed, as they struggled with the stoves and the fireplaces, skimmed icy milk and scrubbed muddy vegetables, that they enjoyed one hour of this realty more than days of the heated and padded "roughing it" of the Dwyers' Catskill shooting-box, where they had spent the previous week-end.

In the frosted dooryard their breath smoked white in the clear, sunshiny air; there was no spring yet, no hint of spring to the average eye and ear. Yet Hilary knew the secret of the high fresh winds that blew so gloriously over the bare hills, and what the bare branches were plotting as they clicked together. The miracle of renewal was busy all over the world, and in her heart, and in Dora's very soul and body.

She laughed her rare, rich laughter in these three stolen days of holiday; the Alexandrowskis, Kasha, and a lean, iconoclastic admirer of Kasha, completed the party. There were no critical eyes; they could all be gay and foolish together. They could leave the dishpan to rush to the piano, and sit late about the lunch table humming themes from some obscure opera or concerto.

"See, for a moment," Konrad said on Sunday, when he and Hilary had returned from a walk to find the place deserted, "I have something to show you."

He took from his pocket a folded, thin paper, and Hilary leaned against him interestedly while he spread it on the table. It was the ever-thrilling, ever-enchanting diagram of a ship's accommodations.

"This is the Olympic," Konrad said, "here, you see, stairway—card-room—salon. And here, on Deck B——" He ringed a room with his fountain pen. "Monsieur et Madame," he ended, triumphantly.

"Konrad!" Hilary breathed, excitedly. This was bringing the great event into closer range. "But what guilty splendor! That's immense room——"

"She sails on April twentieth—a Tuesday," Konrad further volunteered. "We are at March sixth—good. When shall we be married? Tomorrow?"

"Tomorrow!" Hilary dismissed this as a joke. But she found that his expression was quite serious.

"My dear," she said, laying her hand upon his. "Let's talk sense!"

"But this is very good sense," protested Konrad. "The world knows that we are to be married—good. It knows that we go to the old country next month—good. Until we sail we have no peace, it will be the cursed telephone, the reporters, the questions on all sides."

"But couldn't we—couldn't we be married the day before and just slip away?"

"Then you are the young bride of the ship—you will not like that! The eyes of everybody are upon you."

He had read her aright. The quick blood came to her face at the mere thought, and the thought of that positive surrender. Her name, her life, her identity would be merged with his; and the fewer the watching eyes in those days of adjustment the better.

"Well, couldn't we say in two or three weeks——"

"When?" he asked, reasonably, taking a memorandum from his pocket. "I go to Boston next week, then to Philadelphia once more, to Baltimore, and to Chicago. These trips you shall make with me as my wife."

"We would escape all the fuss ——" Hilary mused, rather struck with the plan. "We needn't think of invitations and clothes and lists and all the rest. Dora's in mourning, and not well, everyone knows that. Tomorrow's Monday; you play at Carnegie Friday. How is Tuesday?"

"Tuesday, my darling."

"And then where do we go afterward, Konrad? Atlantic City?"

"Come," he said, his arm about her, and his face close to her own, "do you think that when I get my wife I shall not know how to take care of her? Do you think I shall take you to the Cafe de l'Enfant for your wedding dinner?"

She escaped from his kiss with a laugh, but her face was scarlet and her heart hammering as she set busily about supper preparations. This was Sunday. On Tuesday, to be Konrad's wife!

It was in the wakeful, excited hours of the night that she first suddenly remembered Butterfly. Down fell the airy castle of dreams! She could not sail in six weeks; she could not desert Butterfly now, of all times in the world! Hilary tossed and fretted herself almost into a fever, mentally pacifying and pleasing them both, husband and sister, and came down to breakfast feeling tired and jaded.

The delicious odor of wood smoke was already fuming like incense in the kitchen; Vanni had started a fire. In a few minutes freshly boiled coffee scented the air, and Hilary opened the yard door to floods of sunshine that were actually warm, and to the pretty pictures of barns and trees and fields steaming in air that was almost springlike. Grass was filming the hard earth with an emerald mist, and on the shrivelled grapevine outside the door the frost had already melted.

"Konrad, dear," Hilary said, bravely, over her coffee, when they were alone. "I must have been mad not to remind you last night that—that I can't sail so soon. You must see that I cannot leave Butterfly now, to get through—May—alone. It would break her heart!"

"Alone?" Konrad echoed, surprisedly. "I had not heard that the good Craig and his excellent mother were dead!"

"You know what I mean. This is a serious time, for several reasons. It's—it's vitally important that this event should bring Craig and Dora together. I believe it will, and his mother does. But I must be here to manage them all!"

"No," Konrad answered, inflexibly and calmly. "That is just what you shall not do. You manage too much. You have eaten, breathed, thought for poor Butterfly long enough! I cannot permit it. It is much better that you shall worry for yourself, and for your own children!"

"Konrad, be reasonable. How could I leave her, just as—as she needs me most?"

DOBINSON PLAYERS

The Dobinson Players will open Again on Wednesday at the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium in "A Prince There Was," announces Miss Eva Daniels, business manager, and the play will continue throughout the balance of the week, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

THE GATEWAY

The word Dragoman threatens to supplant that of Sheik in the popular vernacular since the release of "The Arab," Rex Ingram's newest production for Metro, which is playing the last times today at the Gateway theatre. There are no Sheiks in the real meaning of the word, in this picture, which was filmed among the Arabs of North Africa; but Ramon Novarro as a Dragoman is a romantic enough figure to start a new vogue of film hero. A Dragoman is a native guide.

A number of real Arab Sheiks, however, play extra roles in the picture. Five Bedouin tribes were used, pitching their encampment at the oasis of Gabes. This camp consisted of 500 Bedouin horsemen, with their women and children, their herds of goats and sheep, 500 head of horses and a similar number of camels. "The Arab" is a screen version of Edgar Selwyn's stage play.

THE GLENDALE

Laurette Taylor in "One Night in Rome" concludes today at the Glendale theatre. Wednesday and Thursday the feature is Arna Q. Nilsson in "Half-a-Dollar Bill."

THE T. D. & L.

"A Girl of the Limberlost" shows today for the last times at the T. D. & L. theatre. Wednesday and Thursday the feature is "Sinners in Silk."

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BEANS

"Oh! are you going away, Nurse Jane?" asked Uncle Wiggily one morning as he saw his muskrat lady housekeeper putting on her bonnet and shawl.

"I am going away just for a few days," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "Don't you remember I told you I was going to visit Mrs. Stubtail, the lady bear?"

"Oh, yes! I had forgotten," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "But what about my beans?"

"Your beans?" repeated Nurse Jane, "What do you mean—beans?"

"Why, I want, very much, some baked beans," went on the bunny. "I was hoping you'd make me some today."

"Dear me!" exclaimed Nurse Jane. "I quite forgot I promised you some baked beans. I have left the ice box full of other good things for you to eat while I am away. Couldn't you get along without beans, Wiggy, my dear?"

"I want beans!" said Uncle Wiggily in a sad, but determined, voice. "But don't you worry nor bother about them!" he went on in his jolly way as he twinkled his pink nose. "I'll bake my own beans while you are gone. How do you do it?"

"First you soak some dried beans in water to soften them ready for baking," said Nurse Jane. "Then you put them in a pot with some molasses and a bit of salt pork and bake the beans in the oven. But be sure to soak them first. Do you think you know how?"

"It is very easy, said Uncle Wiggily, calm and confident like.

So, when Nurse Jane had gone visiting, Uncle Wiggily got out a sack filled with dried beans.

"Let me see," he murmured. "She said be sure to soak them in water first. Now how many shall I soak? Well, since I am very fond of baked beans, and since perhaps Uncle Butter might come over and want some, I'll soak plenty—I'll soak a whole wash tub full."

Uncle Wiggily filled a washtub with the dried beans—filled it up even full to the top. Then he poured in some water.

"I will let the beans soak for a while," he said, "and when they are soft I'll put them in the oven and bake them. I certainly am fond of baked beans!"

While the beans were soaking, Uncle Wiggily sat down in the next room to wait. He was reading the paper when, all of a sudden, he heard a queer noise in the kitchen.

"Oh, I guess that's the Fuzzy Fox jumping in a window to get me!" thought the rabbit. "But I'll make a pop gun out of paper and the banging noise will frighten the fox away."

Uncle Wiggily made a pop gun out of paper, but when he went on tiptoe to the kitchen to scare the Fox, no Fox was there. But the funny noise still sounded. And, then Uncle Wiggily saw a funny sight.

The tub of dried beans had swelled up, because of the water he put on them, and instead of one tub full of beans there were about four tubs full! The beans were swelling up and running all over the kitchen. They dropped on the floor, over the edge of the tub, and this made the funny sound.

"Well, Uncle Wiggily, I guess you'll have beans enough for a week!" laughed a voice at the door, and there stood Uncle Butter. "You should only have soaked a quart or two. Oh my!" How that goat did laugh.

"Don't tell Nurse Jane! Don't tell her!" begged Uncle Wiggily. "She'll think I didn't know beans!" And, really, he didn't; did he? But Uncle Butter helped the bunny scoop up the beans which were all scattered over the kitchen floor. They sent about five tubs full to the neighbors, and Uncle Wiggily and Uncle Butter baked the rest and ate them, and very good they were. But if you want to keep friends with Mr. Longears, don't say "beans" to him for a long while.

And if the street lamp doesn't hide down in a dark alley so the door knob can't see its way to jump through the key hole, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Bunty's bouncer.

BOWLING SQUADS IN TOURNAMENT

Ten Teams Enter; Schedule Calls for Twenty-two Weeks of Rolling

Ten teams, many of them competing last season in the City Bowling league, have entered the Major league tournament which will start tonight at the Recreation alleys. The opening game will be played by the Pacific Electrics and the Red Feathers. There will be a Major league match every Tuesday night for the next twenty-two weeks. Suitable trophies and prizes have been posted by Pete Neise, manager of the Recreation alleys for the tournament.

The Bulls matched their strength against the Lions last night, and the Bovines came off second best in a three-man contest. The first game was won by the Bulls, but the Lions took the next two easily. Clanin of the winners rolled high score with 224. In the third game every man on the Lion team rolled better than 200.

The Seals splashed all over the Rats last night, taking the first two games, but dropping the third. Brown of the winners started out with 201 for the first game and followed through for 246 in the second. The scores:

OFFER FOOTBALL SEASON TICKETS

Tickets to Cost $1.10 Placed On Sale, Good for All Games In League

With all appearances of a good season ahead, the Glendale High school officials have decided to sell season football tickets to the local fans and citizens. This was decided upon in a meeting held at Alhambra, when the principals of the various schools in the Central league met and concluded that these tickets, to be sold to outsiders for the nominal fee of $1.10, will be accepted at all league and practice games in which the Glendale eleven participate.

Last year the Covina and Citrus High schools sold tickets similar to these to the townspeople, and in this way were assured a large attendance at all of their games. Although the Dynamiters do not have to go begging for spectators, this system will give the citizens of Glendale an opportunity to see the games at a greatly reduced rate. The usual admission is 50 cents.

Gives Birthday Party In Honor of Her Son

Mrs. A. Nentwig of 1015 Florence place, was hostess Saturday afternoon at a party celebrating the second birthday of her son, Thomas Alfred. A large company of kiddies was entertained on the lawn and later enjoyed a birthday luncheon. Halloween colors and favors were used artistically on the table. There were present Aldola, Jesse, Denver Charleyville, Burbank; Teddy and Virginia Rose Wolfe, Burbank; Betty Jane Burge, Los Angeles; John and Bill Bucher, San Fernando; Phyllis Bishop, Monterey Park; Carlos Bradford, San Antonio, Texas; Caroline and Dorothy Cunningham, Cooper and Leah Lindley, Richard Marshall, Burt and Shirley Pittaway, Blanche and Elma Hozestadt, Harriet and John McIntosh, Glendale.

Mandell, Salvadore In Headliner at Vernon

With hopes of keeping his coast record clean, Sammy Mandell, flashy Illinois lightweight, will make his final appearance in the southland tonight at the Vernon arena, where he meets Phil Salvadore in the main event of the weekly ring show. Salvadore is considered by fight followers as the one man who has a chance of toppling Mandell and the battle is causing no little amount of interest. Mandell has appeared in four fights in Los Angeles since his arrival here and has made an impressive showing in each case. Tony Fuente, the sensational heavyweight produced by Fred Winsor, meets Jim Goddard in the special event, which promises to be even as good as the main card.

Teachers' Club Holds Meeting at School

The monthly meeting of the High School Teachers' club was held last night at the Broadway school, O. E. McDowell, president, presiding. The principal talk was made by Instructor J. Ulmer on "Constitutional Amendments at the November Election." Considerable time was given to discussion of the regulations of the state board of education, bearing on high school courses of study after July 1, 1925, when the new regulations go into effect. Principal George U. Moyse of the Glendale Union High school was present at the meeting.

33 DEAD IN CRASH

BELGRADE, Oct. 7.—Bitter fighting between Jugo-Slav soldiers and Albanian peasants has claimed thirty-three dead and forty-six wounded.

Delegation In Protest On Route of Speedway

The City Planning commission last night received a delegation from the Lake street district, asking that the River Truck Speedway, as it is now officially known, follow Flower street through their section of the city. The meeting was held at the City Hall, J. H. Randall acting as chairman when T. W. Watson was obliged to leave before the session was over.

Inasmuch as this commission has already concurred with the Los Angeles, Regional and Burbank planning commissions that the Lake street route is more practicable for this speedway, no action was taken on the protest registered by the delegation at last night's meeting, other than to assure them that there will be another meeting between the four commissions before the matter is definitely decided one way or another.

Tickets for Big Mat Battle Placed on Sale

Tickets for the Lewis-Mondt wrestling match to be held Monday night at Washington park, Los Angeles, were placed on sale this morning at 9 o'clock by Promoter Lou Daro, who arranged the championship battle between the two heavyweight grapplers. From advance sales started already it is indicated that a record crowd will be out to see Mondt attempt to wrest the heavyweight championship from Lewis, and since ample seating capacity will be provided at the ball park, Daro states that everyone will be accommodated. Both Lewis and Mondt will start public training today at Praeger park, Los Angeles, where the fans may watch them go through their training grind.

Len C. Davis Goes on Gibraltar Finance Board

vin Smith, president of the corporation said this morning:

"It is extremely gratifying to have Mr. Davis secure an interest in our corporation and to become one of its directors. He is a man of mature judgment, and his decision to join this organization speaks well for it. We feel that he will be of great assistance to us and that his entrance into the corporation in strengthening it greatly.

"The success Mr. Davis has made in connection with the Grand View Memorial Co., of which he is president, shows conclusively that he is a man of unusual business ability and integrity; that his methods of transacting business are right, clean and honest. Mr. Davis is recognized throughout this section of the country as a progressive, fair-minded business man, whose actions are clean-cut and beyond question."

Kansas City Woman, 58, Student at School

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 7.—The old adage, "It is never too late to learn," is being supported in Kansas City, Kan., by Miss Anna M. White, who by her 58 years of age easily wins the distinction of being the oldest student in the public schools there. She has enrolled as a special student in the Manual Training High school, satisfying a long desire for a high school education. She is regarded as one of the most studious pupils in her school.

L. A. EXCHANGE

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—Slight gains were made in this morning's trade on the Los Angeles stock exchange by Julian issues after dropping back from yesterday's close on the opening bids.

Common gained, ½, selling at $8 in small parcels, while preferred was more active and, opening at $11.50, soon made $11.75. Among other oils Standard Oil of California was steady at $56.

In the mining list, 5000 United American sold at 3 cents. Prince Consolidated, at 8 cents, saw 7000 shares change hands.

Utility issues were firm and Los Angeles Investment stock quieted after a week of marked activity.

In the bonds, General Petroleum was a leader, with utilities also quite active, giving the market a firm tone, despite the weather.

The early rains should have a reassuring effect on all hydro-electric utilities, market observers pointed out, although stocks and bonds have suffered little, if any, from dry weather.

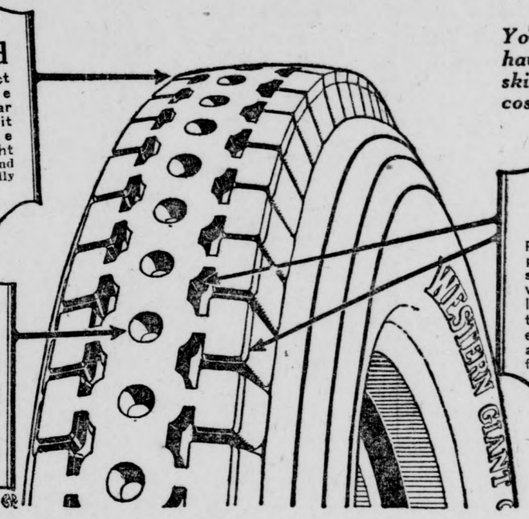
Ride With Security on "Western Giant" Cords

Massive Flat Tread — Provides perfect traction. The weight of the car resting upon it compresses the rubber so tight that punctures and snags are practically unheard of.

Suction Cups — —grip the wet pavement and prevent slipping. The "musical hum of security" made by the gripping cups tells you that you are protected against skidding.



Sharp Edges — Prevent side slipping, and the square tread wears down evenly. The tire retains its nonskid efficiency until about three-fourths worn out.

You might as well have REAL nonskid tires. They cost no more.

Winter, with its slippery pavements and roads, will soon be here. The cautious motorist will be prepared by using Western Giant Cords—for they hold to the wet pavement and reduce the element of danger.

Look at the tread on the Western Giant Cord—note the row of deep suction cups and the high square tread with sharp edges that make this fine tire practically skid proof.

Try Western Giant Cords on your rear wheels, experience for yourself the security these tires will give you during the winter months.

supported entirely by free-will offerings given by the adherents of the church through what is known as the Sixty-Cent-A-Week Fund. This is the goal that every individual member of the denomination works to, and while some do not pay the average of sixty cents a week, others contribute several times this amount, thus helping to make up the deficiencies of those who can not make a heavy offering.

Discuss Missions

The money that will be appropriated at this convention will go to Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, and the islands of the sea, and it is because of the heavy financial questions that will be involved that the leaders of the church in the different foreign countries are now on their way to attend. The question of sending recruits to the mission fields will also be a big one under consideration. Every local conference in the United States and Canada will be represented by its own president, and the entire delegation will act in the capacity of a foreign mission board. The names of prospective missionaries from all parts of North America will be submitted to the convention for selection.

During the month of August a company of twenty-four missionaries sailed from Vancouver, British Columbia, and it is quite probable that a larger company than this will be sent from America's shores as the result of the work that will be done during this convention. Problems affecting the denomination in North America will also be considered. America is the home base of the denomination and the leaders look to this country for the vast majority of recruits that are sent to foreign mission fields.

The school leaders will be in attendance and will submit the names of young men and young women who are in the graduating classes of the colleges and who have consecrated their lives to foreign mission enterprises. These names will be placed on the list that is always kept by the secretaries of the Foreign Mission Board and before the students graduate many times calls are extended to them to go abroad.

Building Fund

The question of building churches both at home and abroad will also be considered. The denomination operates what is known as the church extension fund, and out of this fund contributions are made for the erection of church edifices. Calls have been received by the mission board secretaries for funds with which to erect church buildings in different parts of Europe and other foreign lands, and it is quite probable that quite a few thousand dollars will be appropriated during the convention for the erection of some of these edifices.

Pastoral changes will also be made in the executive forces of local conferences, and calls will be answered for ministers to take charge of churches in different parts of this and other countries. There will be a number of foreign missionaries present who are now on furlough in this country who will assist in bringing to the attention of the leaders the church conditions that exist in the countries they represent, and the needs concerning the strengthening of different mission stations, and the sending of missionaries into sections that have not yet been entered.

Committees will be appointed to submit plans and recommendations; to arrange for the regular program of the convention; to discuss financial questions; to plan for the sending out of missionaries; the changing of ministers in this country and also for the ordination of young men to the ministry. It will be a business session through and through, and during the entire stay of the delegates each day will be fully occupied from early morning until late at night.

As relief to the unemployment situation of London, it has been proposed that improvements be made to the water system at a cost of more than $300,000.

IMPERIAL BONDS AT PAR

EL CENTRO, Oct. 7.—For the first time in history bonds of the Imperial Valley Irrigation district have sold at par, an issue of $500,000 sixes having been bought by the First Securities company of Los Angeles for delivery on November 1. The same company is bidding for $450,000 more of the same 1922 issue.

GETS THEM UP EARLY

HEMET, Oct. 7.—Dr. J. W. McCann of this city has the right idea. Keep people well and they will keep a doctor. He is now organizing a gymnasium class for business men at the high school to meet each morning at 6:30 o'clock for setting-up exercises, or does he mean "getting up" exercises.

FULL STOMACH AND PURSE

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 7.—There is no question but what the burglar which visited the home of Claude Hancock was hungry. For he devoured the fried chicken left in the refrigerator, helped himself to a whole lemon pie and then prepared himself for eventualities by confiscating the family purse.

CURRANTS LATEST INDUSTRY

PERRIS, Oct. 7.—Currants is the latest crop to come to the land of sunshine as a commercial venture. Robert Schroeder is preparing to plant five acres to small vine fruit after successful experiments which satisfy him that currants will thrive as well here as in Greece.

COWBOY HAT TO PASTOR

FULLERTON, Oct. 7.—Rev. C. R. Montague, who left the Methodist church here for a Monrovia assignment, was presented by officers of the local church with a large sombrero of two-quart capacity following a luncheon arranged in his honor. Wondering the cause for the gift he found an order tucked under the brim entitling him to any hat in the haberdasher's stock from which the cowboy hat was obtained.

ORDERS GRAND JURY PROBE

ONTARIO, Oct. 7.—District Attorney George H. Johnson of San Bernardino county has ordered a grand jury investigation of an assault upon A. McDougall, aged 61, by alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan here. No arrests have been made in the case which has stirred county-wide interest in behalf of the aged man suffering from a skull fracture.

DESIGNS, ERECTS OWN APARTMENTS

D. A. Robertson Completes New Building on Verdugo Road; Open Soon

D. A. Robertson will open his new apartment house at 115-117 North Verdugo road this week, the only remaining work to be completed being plumbing, which is expected to be finished within the next day or two. Mr. Robertson has designed and constructed the entire building himself, including the architectural work and the structure will give to that section of Glendale one of the most modern apartments in the city.

The building, constructed at a cost of $12,000, is a frame structure, lathed on the outside with one by fours, covered with wire and California stucco and finished with water-proof cement.

Four Apartments

The front of the building is of a beautiful design and the color work, gained by toning the colors during the process of placing the mortar on, is varied. Four apartments are included in the building and each will have bedroom, kitchen, living room, screen porch, bath and cook stove.

Among the conveniences for the patrons of the upstairs apartments is a contrivance for opening the door at the entrance from the top of the stairs, something which has not been seen in Glendale as yet.

Wonderful scenery of the foothills back of Glendale is gained from the top story of the building and the apartments are far enough removed from the business district to give real comfort to the occupants.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

The regular board meeting of the Central Christian church was held at the church last night, when the board approved the second visitation campaign which will be launched soon. The membership of the church is divided into eight teams with between sixty-five and seventy-five on each team, and it is the duty of the members of these teams to visit each other and get acquainted. Following this campaign, one week of personal evangelism is held and this will close on the Sunday before Thanksgiving, when it is expected that those who have been seen during the week of evangelism will join the church.

L. A. City Workers Must Pay Tax on Incomes

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—Sad news for employes of several municipal departments is given out by Rex B. Goodcell, collector of internal revenue. City workers in the bureau of power and light, water works department and harbor department must pay income tax, it has been decided. About 600 employes are affected and many will have to make up considerable sums as the ruling is retroactive since 1917.

Couple Ask Damages From L. A. Auctioneer

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—Charles and Emily West have filed suit against Lewis S. Hart, well known auctioneer and storage warehouse proprietor, for $16,250 damages alleged to have been inflicted on the couple in a fight occurring July 2 of this year. Hart is accused of permanently injuring Mrs. West. The incident had its beginning when the couple inquired about furniture they had entrusted to Hart's custody, it was stated in the complaint.

ICE is your smallest item of expense

Compared to the constant benefits you get from a well-iced refrigerator, the cost of ice is almost trifling. Ice will pay for itself in the food it saves. You get its added benefit at no cost.

Ice keeps your foods pure and wholesome. It is the cheapest form of health insurance you could buy. Stale foods, even before they spoil, are not wholesome, and frequently cause sickness.

The safe way is the economical way—keep your refrigerator filled with ice all the time.

What My Neighbor Says

Is of Interest to Glendale Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Glendale resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Harry Woods, prop. shoe repair shop, 214 W. Stocker St., says: "I had backache and pains through the small of it, which were caused from working at my bench. A few Doan's Pills relieved me and I am glad to recommend them."

The above statement was given February 7, 1920, and on May 10, 1924, Mr. Woods said: "I always keep Doan's Pills on hand, and they never fail to relieve me of the slightest attack of backache and kidney trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Woods had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.
